a file pumper?

I dont know.

Yeah a file pumper would do it, or just add a shitton of junk code yourself.

maybe one person downloaded it 12 times? thats what's happening to me. they download the server, click it, nothing happens. So they download it again and again. I was browsing through someone's files and i found in their download folder: <myservername>(13).exe - rofl.

^^this is just a guess.

I haven't toyed with blackshades yet but maybe it's not mac compatible? that's my other guess... anyways, good luck man.

you could just easily add a not pad file with loads @@@@ to go along with your original file?
