Congrats! By the way, does Filelce send payments via Alertpay or is it only Paypal?

User 1 - July 10, 2011, 4:45 am

I applied and was accepted a few hours later. I would not consider it as an event you can "brag" about.

It's only Paypal at the moment. They are going to have new payment methods soon.

I got accepted and told the truth on all the beta questions... (I thought I would be denied) No experience, etc etc. :P

Haha it's a promotional period, we're accepting practically everyone who can write a gramatically correct sentence. I'll be putting a ToS up soon (purging all inactive accounts and crappy accounts), plus tightening the application system (requiring website verification or a nice million word essay on your promo tactics), so better get in there earlier or else getting accepted will be something slightly more brag worthy ;) I'd rather keep our site more exclusive and HQ, since we're soon going to be hitting up deals with more exclusive advertisers too ;)
