Welcome bro. Just go look in the tutorial sections. But lmao at trying to hack thetechgame, good luck with that broski. By the way, I recommend the white hat path, it's a lot more respectable.

Welcome to the forums.

It's not that easy, learning about hacking takes time.

You need to have the will to learn and patient, you need to know that you can't learn everything in one day.

A good idea is to find some E-books like Emily said to you.

Don't be a dick, there are many good members who will teach him as well as many tutorials. If you don't have anything useful to say, don't post.
