Why should i pick you!?: I have been very active here at HF and I really want the chance to become a l33t user so I can contribute a lot more then I already have. I really would like to chance to do this by becoming l33t, and giving even more in the l33t section. I know it isn't always about giving away free stuff that matters most here, it carries on alot about the HQ posts, the respect you give people, and even more. I have been here for not really that long, but I have posted alot of HQ posts and been really active, giving alot to the community. Being l33t would be nice, and I hope you pick me, but that will not spot me from posting alot more and giving alot more the the community. I like HF, and I plan on staying here for a long time, I just really hope I get the chance to win this contest so I can get a little back from what I've given out. But if not, I definitely do understand and will try to keep giving more to the community, such as tutorials and other things that might come as a big use to other people in the community. Anyway, thanks for taking the time to read this and I hope you pick me.

Reason for being in HF: Intrigue at first. Now I just want to keep learning about everything here since it's so interesting and useful, and I want to be able to understand things, not just blindly following instructions and tutorials like when I started. I'm one of those "wanna know all" type of person.

Contributions: I haven't released any official products yet, but it is my main goal of being here now. I've helped a few newbies being stuck at some point, mostly over PMing and MSN, as well as advising and giving some base knowledge I got from this forum, and the knowledge I came here with.

Why should i pick you?: Mainly, your reason would refer to my "contributions" which aren't really much at this point, but as I said, I'm learning more and more daily, since HF has almost become my Homepage. I'm trying my best to help people with everything I can, keeping my posting HQ. The other reason is that I will probably never going to be able to afford a self-upgrade, as my financial situation doesn't seem to be getting any better for the past 10 years, nor do I see it any brighter in the future either.

Thanks for reading and good luck to everyone.

Reason for being in HF: Even though I am on many other hacking forums now, I feel a special bond with HF seeing it was one of the first I joined with the intent of learning black hat methods. I mainly read posts, help people if I can, shop around, and do various hacking jobs. I would be l33t but my account is in limitation for being paid in stolen $ by an HF member.

Contributions: I've contributed a lot! I used to dump accounts back in the day. Have given programs and such to the l33ts. I leaked phoenix exploit on the l33t section when I was a l33t member. Good times.

Why should i pick you!?: I'm probably the only applicant who has been l33t for 1 year (It expired) and bought 6 other members l33t. Helping old members is nice :D Its like helping old people. PLUS - I would still be l33t if my paypal was not put in limitation from some scammer on this site paying me in stolen $$.

Why should i pick you!?:

You should pick me because I really do want it, and I do come on this forum a-lot and try to help members when I can. If I get this upgrade I can help people much more because I'll be a more HQ user and be more known, etc. I'd also enjoy repping helpful members so they can be more known, etc then maybe a day a member will upgrade them to a L337 member because of all their helpful things.

Also, I didn't post how I want this L337 because I always help people, make tutorials, have contests, etc for them and I deserve more which other people do often in their post when someone's upgrading someone and kiss the person that's upgrading ass and if I did have L337 already and you were upgrading to Uber of something I wouldn't rep you ("which most people would do) because it's kissing ass so they think you'll choose them for it, and if the person didn't win they'd remove the rep just because they didn't win.

But, I'm not saying I don't help people, and make tutorials, and have giveaways because; I do (Well sometimes on whatever knowledge I know that involves anything on this forum) . But I don't really care for anything back because I "actually" do like helping people which helps them improve, etc.

Even though I did say I don't kiss the user that's upgrading's ass, but I do like to thank you for making this upgrade which will be helpful for the person who wins.

And I do know I don't have a-lot of rep, but it still doesn't make me a bad guy, but like I stated above "I try to help people when I can".

Name: Eran

Age: 22

Reason for being in HF: I'm fascinated by the coding world in general and from the hacking world in particular, and it all comes together to this great community.

Contributions: My contributions are mostly what I do for living which is GFX. I give free GFX service to members of hack forums free of charge, (even in threads where they offer money). I have also made a big shells giveaway last week.

Why should i pick you!?: I do my best to help the community for free, and I emphasize the word free because I never charge money or use $hitCash or even Adf.ly and those kind of services because I believe that helping others for free will eventually be rewarded.

Why should i pick you!?: I would very much love to be upgraded to HF L33T because my inbox is always getting very close to over-filling. I log in at least 5 times a day make sure that I can get back to members that I have helped. I would say in the Month that I have been here I have posted 3 very HQ threads and helped over a hundred members in the short amount of time. My goals are to be Red Lion one day.

Why should i pick you!?: First of all, i would like to thank you for posting the contest and I would like to wish the best of luck to everyone else. So I believe I should be upgraded because I have nearly all positive rep, I think I am a hq member, and I would do a lot with my membership.

So, moving on to my rep. I have a little bit of rep, nothing compared to others but I think its a decent amount for someone of my standing. But although I don't have a bunch of rep, I have nearly no neg rep. The only neg rep I have is from someone who wanted me to go first in a trade. I declined so he of course accused me of scamming and left me neg rep. His account was latter named dead for abusing his ub3r powers (or at least this is what i heard)

My HQ ness, I try to make all of my posts count, I have a few posts that were reported, however they all came from a simple mis-understanding that I now know about and warn others about (asking for VOUCH copy's of ebooks) I always try to help out others when I can lend good advice, and at the same time I don't lie to people about things that I don't know. If i don't know anything of help, I try to redirect people to where they can find help.

Last but not least, what would I do with l33t? I would post helpful ewhore tuts in the vip forums, along with offering my ewhore mentoring. I would try to contribute as much as I take, I dont like to be a leach, I like to help when I can, and I will do this to the other upgraded members (and normal members)

In conclusion, I think I do deserve l33t, I am sure there are others on this thread that deserve it, but I have taken a lot of time in my application and tried to give you the best vision of me. So thanks for reading my essay! Black Hat (an intro paragraph, 3 body paragraphs and 1 conclusion paragraph)

Why should i pick you!?:

Many advantages which would make my life easier here. For example: bigger inbox space. This is useful when having to deal with a huge amount of messages. I would also be able to edit my threads/post whenever I need it. PMing several users the same message would be useful when holding free giveaways. I would also like to have access to the L33T forum area. It's quite hard to be taken seriously at the moment though, people think "regular members are lq users", which is not always the case. And ofcourse, it would be nice to rep too. ;) People appreciate the services I offer. I always take time before posting, so that the idea I'm trying to express is clear. I Achieved quite alot in few time, been here since feb 2011. I like to contribute to the community. Not by holding shit giveaways, but some real useful giveaways! I also made some friends here, it's a nice place to learn alot. I'll write some tuts in the future when I'm advanced at what I'm doing right now. And ofcourse, I'll keep holding my free giveaways/services. I'm 5h a day online atm, only going to increase that. So you can say that I'm very active. Now if you see how I contributed to HF since feb, guess what member I'll be in 2 years! And latest, thanks for holding this contest, Goodluck to everyone! ;)

I'm not here necessarily for hacking or anything of the like, nor do I plan to fully utilize all sections/boards. The only sections I really use are the ones that don't count posts and the Gaming section, I might get into the Marketplace later on in my time in HackForums, as of I now I see too many scams going on and I am not the type to get scammed or scam. I do enjoy myself a lot here though.

Contributions:

I have no contributions nor will contribute due to reasons of users being greedy, I do not have anything I have not paid for or have illegally obtained, therefore I won't waste my time giving away things for the respect of those who can't do anything for me other than for online use, or just for reputation.

Why should i pick you!?:

I really have my doubts about you picking me, but if you perhaps picked me of all applicants I should be very grateful, and mindful not to let your money go to waste. (Being banned, or having my reputation (not count, but physically) messed up.

Haha, that's funny.

I think you misread the bit where I said that I doubted you'd pick me.

There are multiple people who have the same avatar (not the same, but amongst each other).

You should add that you don't allow new members, and tell all the other new members you're not buying l33t for them.

I also know the real reason you think I have multiple accounts, it's because I have exceptionally well grammar and I am somewhat HQ already, you do not believe in new members starting out well, and you want to upgrade those who have poor grammar and consistently make mistakes, that way they will show you very much gratitude and +rep you and then spread the word of excitement and then get you more +rep, that is why, it is because out of reading my post, you can pretty much hint out that I'm not that enthusiastic about this, and I believe the my application was really the best of them all, I used great grammar, I used the format, and I didn't asskiss, but it really seems that you want the exact opposite, you want to upgrade members and have those type of members around you to make yourself look good, I know the type of people like you, and I do not like you. <3

I can also tell by your "Goals" you want to be in almost every group there is, as long as it requires having good reputation and making posts in the subforums, I mean it's so fucking obvious that you're a fake.

I think you have multiple accounts because you talk like him, plus same avatar.
And you're the first one i straight up denied.

And not every group, those are just 4. Count the number of groups, it's not 4.

I also try not to troll or flame for no reason, I'm a really chill guy and it takes allot to piss me off. Another reason you should pick me would have to be my grammar. I think I have a pretty decent vocabulary, I say that because having good grammar shows maturity around the forums, and to you as well. Giving L33T to someone immature (unless you are friends with them) might make you feel ashamed and disappointed. Also, what does me joining today have to do with anything? That just means that a user who joined today is far more deserving and HQ then users who joined a year ago.

First off, when you found out you didn't win, you decided to go rage crazy, which is low quality, and to speak about being noticed is unbelievable. You are a multiple account user, you just joined, and you already know about every group and how HF functions, it is obvious. And you are the user wanting to be noticed, you try to act so intelligent while making yourself look like a complete ass. If you weren't looking for attention, which you so desperately crave, than you would have taken this conversation to the PM system. You are not high quality. You are low quality, and know way too much how this forum works to have just joined. Enjoy your negative reputation. You are a fag.

I think you misread the bit where I said that I doubted you'd pick me.

There are multiple people who have the same avatar (not the same, but amongst each other).

You should add that you don't allow new members, and tell all the other new members you're not buying I33t for them.

I also know the real reason you think I have multiple accounts, it's because I have exceptionally well grammar and I am somewhat HQ already, you do not believe in new members starting out well, and you want to upgrade those who have poor grammar and consistently make mistakes, that way they will show you very much gratitude and +rep you and then spread the word of excitement and then get you more +rep, that is why, it is because out of reading my post, you can pretty much hint out that I'm not that enthusiastic about this, and I believe the my application was really the best of them all, I used great grammar, I used the format, and I didn't asskiss, but it really seems that you want the exact opposite, you want to upgrade members and have those type of members around you to make yourself look good, I know the type of people like you, and I do not like you. <3

I can also tell by your "Goals" you want to be in almost every group there is, as long as it requires having good reputation and making posts in the subforums, I mean it's so fucking obvious that you're a fake.

Haha jackass, you have exceptionally well grammar? I think you mean exceptionally good grammar. You know what is even worse, I have witnessed run-ons, but the entire last paragraph, is just one sentence. Learn to use a period, because your grammar sucks and so do your run-ons.

Hm, I have to admire the fact that you try to point out my grammar mistakes in something that has nothing to do with you, to resort to negative reputation means that you are truly butthurt, or you are just a keyboard warrior, sticking up for Voice.

Voice couldn't help himself, every reply I made he'd type a sentence and leave, so you came in to make him look better. Like I told you through PM, give proof that I have more than one account.

I have a friend who has been banned, but he was not banned through his own fault. That has nothing to do with me, and what I do here. I've been learning about HackForums through him, and his journeys while I still played xbox, and MMORPGs. I'm just now getting into forums such as this one.

I knew I wouldn't win, but I didn't expect to be denied straight from the jump because of what a user thinks, also if you think I care about your negative reputation, I don't.

This is an example of "retardation".

So first you try to play this off like a cool kid, by the, that's funny statement. Then you said he didn't see where you said you had doubts about him picking you, which had nothing to do with anything. How does him thinking that you are not expected to be upgraded have anything to do with him letting you know that you are not going to win. Oh, it doesn't.

Anytime he posts you ask him to link you to some proof, so link me to proof of this, thanks.

"You should add that you don't allow new members, and tell all the other new members you're not buying l33t for them."

Wow, because you aren't winning, you rage. He will upgrade a HQ new member if there is one, but most likely you don't upgrade a new member because you don't know if they will stick with the site because they have no invested interest in the site. Dumbass. This is you being butthurt. Umad yet bro?

You say you know the real reason why he thinks you have multiple accounts. Then you go on to say random shit about his "real" reasoning, even though he already told you why. Also, you say you are already HQ, HQ members don't say that they are HQ. Also, in the sentence you are saying you have good grammar, you mix up well and good. Then you say he is only doing this for +rep, and will only upgrade someone who will +rep him, and then spread the word so that he gets more +rep. First off, I have upgraded 8 members, and I pick HQ members, not members who I think will help me get +rep. Also, no one cares when I upgrade a member, except the member, I don't get +rep from anyone else. Then you say that you believe you had the best application, even though, you discredit the general HF population by saying that they are greedy, and hint at them being ungrateful. You are stupid. Then you say you know the type of people like you, but how do you? What members have you seen going around for rep like this, you had just joined at the time of this post. You are obvious a multiple account user. Oh, and I don't consider someone to make the biggest run-on I have ever witnessed to have good grammar.

No, I didn't resort to negative, I made a reply to how much I dislike and why I think you are LQ and a multiple account user.
