If it has BW limits, I can probably get them suspended. CPU limits, I can usually get them suspended.

Forever and ever though? No. They can always get a new host, renew their hosting, whatever else.

Varies depending on the type of attack. And depends on how long you're buying for Orgy recently tested a site for me which no other Ddos provider has been able to take down. One came close and was able to slow it down for about 15 minutes but never down. Not only did he take the site down but was able to take it down quickly! Big Vouch! No one has been able to touch the power he has with his service.

Orgy - November 21, 2011, 10:43 am

I can now accept PayPal as a payment for this.

nullcx - November 22, 2011, 8:43 pm

Nice! I think I should try your services :)

If you are offering a demo /test run / please contact me via PM to discuss the details. Thanks

Orgy - November 22, 2011, 8:44 pm

No use PMing you; you don't have enough posts to reply. Just contact me on AIM or something

Not to be a dick or anything, but Jay's free shell booter can take down VirusTotal. They have shitty DDoS protection.

Well his prices are definitely not low.... In fact they are higher then Orgy's service, since he never said prices are fixed, but he said that 2$ is for taking down small website/home connection, but his prices can vary from 2$ to 20$.

Anyways, good luck on sales!
