

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Need Help Black Hat or White Hat.

Drew31 - July 23, 2011, 9:19 am

As some of you know i've posted for a contest on a Game I love...now I have another situation. some people can make an ILLEGAL Server to run this game on and they are hurting the true licensed Servers by running these illegal servers.

the Licensed Run on True Servers, strong machines. the Illegal pirate servers run off some nerds computer in his mothers basement.

So...I propose a test of Skills. this is a perfect place to see how good your hacker skills are. HACK THE HELL out of Carnage T4C if you google it, it will pop up for you at top of the list i dont know the exact link to the site.

Hack it rip it apart boot the server so it shuts down or reboots using Shells, do your worst.

If interested post here. this is fun and you can't get in trouble for hacking these guys because they are pirates anyway. its a good place to test your skills or for some of us our newly found skills that we are trying to build.

Azido - July 23, 2011, 9:22 am

Nice try, but we are still not your personal cyberarmy.

Drew31 - July 23, 2011, 9:27 am

it's not about that lol, yes I would like to see this pirate server shut down, but honestly this is a good way to test new hackers newly learned abilities...its not some test site to hack.

This is a real site, a real person's computer/server, and you could not get into trouble for hacking them at all, they are pirates and they are french lol...

again sure i'd like to see them go down. but remember it really is a good place to test some skills, i've been trying to hack them but im still to crappy at it.

Example - July 23, 2011, 9:29 am

Lol.

You are asking to hack a pirate's computer?

Pirates stand for our digital rights.

The Internet would be censored by now if it wasn't for them.

No??????? - July 23, 2011, 9:36 am

We are not your personal army and your reasoning is stupid. A huge amount of this forums users are "pirates", thus, by badmouthing them, you are badmouthing us. Not to mention the derogatory nature of the statement "some nerds computer in his mothers basement". You have insulted both hackers and pirates, on a hacking forum, both of which defend our rights to freedom. GTFO!

Drew31 - July 23, 2011, 10:06 am

Obviously your a nerd in your mothers basement...is this what this forum is? because I know a Hacker in Real life he's 40 years old and was one of the leading men for Compaq/HP...now he has retired and hacks for shits and giggles, he owns 3 houses and lives a great life. thats a hacker.

for you to defend a nerd in his mothers basement and to also jump my shit for trashing those pirates because you are a Pirate yourself? so you say. show some proof of a bad ass hack punk. sick of some of you thinking your so great at hacking. Hack something worth while prove yourself for fuck sake.

half of you put up tutorials that i've found on google from legit sources. half of you are not hackers your hacks.

stop the bull shit, a pirate can be great. but at the same time there are pirates that hurt things and the one's im after are destroying a business that will eventually put 20 - 30 people out of work because this gaming company will close down which employs them.

3 pirates hack a game so they can have their own server to run illegally and try to profit from it, they cheat daily and don't give a fair chance to the players there. yet are taking majority of our games players because they made their server so damn easy at 10x xp its a joke.

Remember

A hacker stands for freedom and rights of the people to do and say as they please. Hackers are not just selfish assholes out for themselves.

These pirates i speak of are selfish and abuse something great. thats not a hacker, they are not hackers. pure and simple they downloaded a program and downloaded the game files and have a server illegally nothing hackerific about it.

leetnewuser - July 23, 2011, 10:11 am

Grey hat is best I think.

A grey hat, in the hacking community, refers to a skilled hacker whose activities fall somewhere between white and black hat hackers on a variety of spectra. It may relate to whether they sometimes arguably act illegally, though in good will, or to how they disclose vulnerabilities. They usually do not hack for personal gain or have malicious intentions, but may be prepared to technically commit crimes during the course of their technological exploits in order to achieve better security. Whereas white hat hackers will tend to advise companies of security exploits quietly, grey hat hackers are prone to "advise the hacker community as well as the vendors and then watch the fallout"

Example - July 23, 2011, 11:05 am

IC3 them or something broski.

It's the Internet, people steal shit all the time.

Get over it.

JoinSeventh - July 23, 2011, 11:13 am

Oh so I'm a nerd in my mother basement?

I think it's your mother who is a nerd in my basement.

Drew31 - July 23, 2011, 11:47 am

I like that lol, my mom in your basement its a good one ;)
rofl in real life right now lol