Jojo° - August 1, 2011, 12:05 pm

Hello, this app is very nice, i've ben using it for the first time today. It didn't react for like 20 minutes and it got me 1475 email addresses, I don't know what I can do with them (I may send advertise mails to them) but it's very cool anyways.

Greetings, Jojo

Buckeyes - August 1, 2011, 2:42 pm

I have tested and works amazing!

badlyfar - August 1, 2011, 2:58 pm

Looks cool, I may try, thanks!

Foundation - August 1, 2011, 6:30 pm

May I ask why there is a blank word document included? Otherwise it looks great, thanks a million!

Heartlessme - August 1, 2011, 7:17 pm

Thanks! Download and ran. Works fine. I get ~3100 email an hour, not sure what I'm going to do with it though.

(° ? °) - August 1, 2011, 11:59 pm

Woohoo! my first 1000 viewed thread! ?

As for the people asking what to do with all those emails, I'd like to tell you, but I really want you to figure it out yourself, sorry ?

Wise Owl - August 2, 2011, 2:38 am avast came up and said Trojan has been found

Foundation - August 2, 2011, 7:27 am

So I noticed the word document is where it exports the emails to. Strange it comes with a blank one, but no biggie. The only suggestion I have is to implement something that makes it more clear when it starts. As it is it just kinda sits there for a bit. Might be a bit off-putting for some new users. Thanks again for this fantastic tool!

To those who don't know what to do with the emails: Think about it. If you honestly can't think of anything to do with them, perhaps you don't need the tool. There are dozens of options.

SuLTra_PiNaY - August 2, 2011, 6:07 pm can you add yahoo too please?

indicud - August 2, 2011, 6:16 pm

What the fuck do I put in the emails box? Do I put @gmail.com? Or the number of the emails?

Regex with browsers 5*10

Heres a more efficient harvester

Gets you more $$$

<http://mobile.twitter.com/searches?page=%22&q=hotmail.com>

Thats all your application does..

Basically its grabbing the same emails over and over lordteq - August 9, 2011, 6:37 am thanks alot bro. This is just perfect

Bloop - August 9, 2011, 11:33 am

This looks cool, downloading now :3

(° ? °) - August 10, 2011, 12:30 pm

Also, if anyone's wondering, the Regex I used was: `(\w)(\.)(\w)+@(gmail|hotmail)\.(com)` that filter Gmail and hotmail emails. If you want to filter yahoo, rocketmail, etc.. just add it like `(\w)(\.)(\w)+@(gmail|hotmail|yahoo|rocketmail)\.(com)`

let me explain what the regex terms are

`(\w)` - All characters but spaces etc

`(\.)` - Any chars `(.)` - Can't really explain this one.. if you're going to add a regex statement

`(\w)` and than `(\.)` You're going to need to add a `` to make it an infinite loop, than you're going to need to define what comes after the dot which is letters so `(\w)`

X-Core - August 10, 2011, 9:44 pm

Awesome program bro, works fast.

centrecore7 - August 11, 2011, 2:21 pm

good work a very nice program you just made my day <3 vinaylahoti - August 14, 2011, 2:57 am awsome share mate.. thanks :) giving out it a try :) tfs

firefury87 - August 15, 2011, 5:48 pm

Downloaded, tested, works exactly as you described it would. I suggest you add a "remove duplicate lines" option, and slightly improve your GUI.

Rating it 8/10 and giving a big vouch. :)

EDIT: I guess you already know this but nonetheless, when you open the harvester and close it without working with it, it still create an output file, empty of course. A minor glitch.

orlyadelson - August 15, 2011, 11:15 pm would this by any chance pull yahoo emails, also?

too short, son!

adiiforu - August 16, 2011, 12:44 am

Add this functionality:-

1. Find and remove duplicate emails.
2. Making a CSV contacts file

I used the program and it had lots and lots of duplicate emails.
but cool anyway.

noober1001 - August 16, 2011, 2:42 am

Hey, this is great.

And don't you wanna share the SRC.

So people can learn from it.

Just a simple suggestion, don't take it seriously bro.

Do whatever you want, its yours.

But I wanna tell you about one more tool, which is theHarvester.

It comes in backtrack.

Pls use it and after knowing its working, you can make your tool much better.

Thanks

divo99 - August 18, 2011, 9:25 am

Thanks mate thats working perfectly.. great share :)

randykentucky - August 18, 2011, 2:14 pm

This is a great share mate. Quite fast and very useful. Well done bro.

Crypto™ - August 18, 2011, 3:03 pm

Excellent tool! I would recommend it to anyone!

A few suggestions though:

-Make sure that it separates all the emails. I got a few that were blahblahblah@gmail.comahahaha@gmail.com

-Prevent it from picking up the same emails multiple times, I have about eighty lines of the same two emails.

Other than that, great tool!

HUGE VOUCH

Edit: Also, you could add the option to use your own RegEx strings. That would make this tool a lot more versatile

Zeyn™ - August 18, 2011, 3:25 pm

Wow. Good work. Works great. Needed this. Thank you very much ;)

dryevil - August 18, 2011, 7:11 pm

Dyamisty - August 19, 2011, 2:21 am

This obviously is frikking great and works really fast!

Would love to see an option to add a keyword for example:

If i want to find emails related to people that play an online game like runescape or something similar, you can add "runescape"

as an optional keyword and it searches for emails and runescape in one post?

Staxxem - August 20, 2011, 12:47 am right on...

share the source code?

and this is a third line..

Exussit - August 20, 2011, 1:18 am

Nice program but one question; how much bandwidth does this use per hr?

Streamline - August 20, 2011, 1:18 am

Thank you for this , works perfectly.

>shortttt<

Exussit - August 20, 2011, 1:28 am hmm, nvm, did some calculations myself and it averages to around 25mb an hour when it's in use.. not to bad :)

Arcturus Mengsk - August 24, 2011, 4:58 pm

Pretty nice looking. You code it yourself?

yazzy - August 25, 2011, 5:44 am

Very nice tool, i will test it right now and give feedback.

Thanks for sharing.

Feedback:

It's working well.

Just a few comments if you are willing to upgrade, can you make it seprate emails like after .com it recognize a new email will be logged and recognize multiple email.

Oh i have some questions also:

- 1- How can i control how long it keeps scanning ? like i want it to scan for 2 hours ?
- 2- What are the proper numbers to enter in pages and emails fields ?

idhoihoo195 - August 25, 2011, 5:55 am

(Jul 27, 2011 05:40 PM)Subotai Wrote: CITE Hello, people.

A while ago, I was working on a program that searches for emails, and now I am releasing it.

This program is an Email Harvester, and the one I made goes on Twitter, and searches for emails that people have tweeted. It is free to use, and you can distribute it wherever you like. I haven't made this really professionally, so it has horrible threading, and the form controls sometimes freezes, but nonetheless, it does its job, and rakes in more than 3000 emails an hour (the proof is below). Ideally, it is supposed to get 3750 emails/hr, but I usually get around 3100-3200. It automatically writes these emails to a text file in the same directory, so you don't have to do any copying and pasting.

How it works:

The procedure is relatively simple. It goes on twitter and searches all the tweets for "gmail.com" (or "hotmail.com" if you want), and it cycles through the pages and finds the strings that fit the Regular Expression for email addresses. The maximum amount of pages twitter allows you to search is 75, and each page contains about 20 tweets containing "gmail.com" (or "hotmail"). For "gmail", it takes around 40 minutes for these pages to fill up, and for "hotmail" it takes around 60 minutes.

Calculations:

So you want to know where I came up with the numbers? Well, here it is:

First lets calculate how many tweets of "gmail.com" are tweeted per hour.

Thats is: 75(pages) 20(results/page) per 40 minutes, which gives us 1500 results per 40 minutes, which is 2250 results per hour.

Now the tweets for "hotmail":

75(pages) 20(results/page) per 60 minutes, which gives us 1500 per hour

So, in total we have 2250 + 1500 results per hour, which is 3750 emails/hr. This is just a rough estimate, and the actual number of emails harvested would be lower, around 3100 and 3200 due to duplicated and misidentifications.

NoVirusThanks

Important: Like I said before, the threading isn't very good, and it form may freeze, so I recommend checking the "Hide After Starting" button. After you click "Start" it hides the form untill it has finished, where it will show it again. By the way, it takes a couple of minutes to finish harvesting all emails, so be patient.

If there is enough demand, i'll make a newer, better version (with better threading and possibly automation)

If you download, please comment and let me know :)

Enjoy, I hope you guys find this useful! Thanks

Thanks for share men, im trying.

apacheking - May 23, 2012, 4:43 pm

Hey Subotai,

Im not sure if this matters, but when I download it and than run it the first thing it does is make a .doc file....and then nothing. (no emails or anything.)

I clicked "HIDE" but then a few minutes later it pops back up and shows "@searches" page.

Am I doing something wrong?
