Thread: [\[Source\] Adobe Theme](#)

Tedd - August 3, 2011, 10:15 pm

Converted to 1.5.2: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1761856>I decided to release because I don't feel like working on it anymore since nobody has appreciations for themes and I won't be working on any more public ones. Do what you may with it.

Credits:

AeonHack (themebase)

xZ3R0xPROJ3CTx (mostly just helping me with ideas)

cool? cool.... anyways i will be making my own themebase pretty soon for upcoming themes and so that will be good because then people wont be saying "omghek u fag stole aeonhack". No offence, I love aeonhack he is a genius but I am just tired of being flamed for something as simple as a themebase because THAT'S WHAT IT'S MADE FOR. Aeonhack even said the exact same theme backing up Thief3. so here ya go:

*Notable Note: Yes, the progress bar and checkbox are from Thief3 because xZ3R0xPROJ3CTx and I made them, ITS NOT LEECHING genius.

And a banned troll now. I have a feeling he got hacked, a l33t with 1K posts just doesn't start trolling that bad over night, someone probably wanted him banned lol.

Oh trust me. He didn't have -55 rep for no reason. He has, and always will be nothing more then a troll.

Wow, that is really upsetting. He seemed like he could've had such a potential, were he not just an incongruous douche.

Definitely not, they just won't be public :P maybe for l33t only or pay, or certain members who I like. Me an xZ3R0xPROJ3CTx have been bouncing some ideas around.

Dally180 - August 4, 2011, 1:06 am

Nice theme! Adobe should hire you!

Gent - August 4, 2011, 1:15 am

I have an idea...you can make a theme repository. Make an application that loads the theme snippet into a text box and an image box that loads a preview. You can offer premium themes as well.

Modestep - August 4, 2011, 2:58 am

Another nice theme :) the time that only sucky themes were posted is over.

While other themes released may not be as good as others, the author still did try and does deserve some credit for trying. Give them some credit and time, and I am sure that other users will get just as good. But yes, it seems that themes are only getting better from here.

I just downloaded it, and that really is an amazing theme. I've looked around this section, and seen you have put a lot of work into themes like this and I really appreciate it. They are really useful and well thought out. You and xZ3ROxPROJ3CTx definitely deserve more REP for your work.

Ya see, it could be that, but it's not. The thing is if all you do is troll, then go fuck yourself. Ya see, the reason I call it trolling is because you posted negative for no apparent reason without posting how you think it should be improved. As well as adding to the fact, you yourself haven't release ANY sort of theme so, who the fuck are you to judge? Idiot.

How can I use the progress bar please? doesn't work for me when I change the value to say 50 or whatever :(

H3NT41 - September 10, 2011, 4:39 pm

Yes please how can I use the progress bar too !?!???!!

Hopkin - September 10, 2011, 4:41 pm

(Sep 10, 2011 12:52 PM)Vault Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) How can I use the progress bar please? doesn't work for me when I change the value to say 50 or whatever :(

It works just like a regular progress bar. You change the maximum to something greater than or equal to your value.

H3NT41 - September 10, 2011, 4:52 pm

A regular progressbar code is : Quote:ProgressBar1.Increment(1) and Quote:AdobeProgressBar1.Increment(1)
don't work :'(

Hopkin - September 10, 2011, 4:54 pm

Because it's not a regular progressbar.

Code AdobeProgressBar1.Value = AdobeProgressBar1.Value + 1

H3NT41 - September 10, 2011, 4:59 pm

I don't understand don't work for me I put this in a timer or in button ??

Hopkin - September 10, 2011, 5:01 pm

Put it into a loop and it should work.

H3NT41 - September 10, 2011, 5:08 pm

Can you give to me a code ? ? ??

Hopkin - September 10, 2011, 5:15 pm

Code Private Sub timer(ByVal sender As System.Object, ByVal e As System.EventArgs) Handles Timer1.Tick

AdobeProgressBar1.Value = AdobeProgressBar1.Value + 1
End Sub

H3NT41 - September 10, 2011, 5:18 pm

I do it for a while now and its not work ? !!

Check the OP for the new theme version, I added an increment function to the progressbar.

+Bourbon - September 11, 2011, 6:42 am

I've tried:

adobepressbar2.value +=1
adobepressbar2.increment(1) in a timer and on a click event and never increments :(

Download the new version (1.02), this will fix the bug. Also when you download, change the maximum of your progressbar to 100, it might be set at 0 (thus causing this error).

I was using the new version I'll try again soon the entire project 'crashed' so got mad and gave up. I'm very grateful for this theme but do you have any tips how to prevent errors when designing the gui / programming lost my design twice :s

I am not sure, if you give me the error I will fix it but it depends on why the error is caused. I myself have not had any problems with it but just tell me whats wrong and i will do my best to fix it.

Hopkin - September 11, 2011, 6:51 pm

If your talking about the error that causes a bunch of error messages to popup and crashes the theme, it can be fixed by simply toggling a property.

Personally, I switch TopMost to False and then back to True whenever it crashes and the problem magically goes away.

I might just completely redo this theme to remove any chance of errors, update the themebase, etc. This is a pretty old theme. lol

Hopkin - September 12, 2011, 7:59 pm

It acutally happens with almost all the themes i've used, not just yours.

For no apparent reason, all the theme controls just suddenly crash and change into the vbCritical symbol and a bunch of messages popup telling me that some index is invalid.

Despite that, it's still possible to build the application correctly if the theme has crashed..

I have this error like multiple times during building a theme. It has something to do with the Bloom arrays now, but sometimes it is something to do with objects being unaccessable due to access level or whatnot. My new themes however will be completely hard-coded, no themebase most likely. It is easier to do custom controls this way.

Hopkin - September 12, 2011, 8:05 pm

Now that you mention it, those themes I used were indeed created with the themebase.

Does this mean your no longer expanding the awesome Adobe theme?

Most definitely, but first I must decide if I want to release my listbox creation to the public, or have it for sale.
