Thread: [\[New\]Automated People Searches\[3-5k/mo\]](#)

Endonium - October 2, 2009, 11:22 pm

Two years ago, I started getting interested in the whole boom of affiliate marketing on the net, people with blogs using SEO to make a few k's each months, without doing much. The initial work was hard, the rest was just sitting back and relax, with a few necessary updates from time to time.

Make a few blogs, place a few articles you got from Filipinos for 2 dollars, have banners everywhere, get a few landing pages, and you're good to go.

It's a bit harder now. Still works, but it's a bit slower to start, unless you already have the knowledge. Back then you could start with nothing from nothing.

So a little time ago, I found this. A people search engine (US only).
Now, the owner of this thing did a rather interesting deal.

He gets searches from public directories, police records, gov records that are declassified, etc. To get results from a search like that, people have to pay. So he set up a search engine for people, where you get the first few results free, but never fully with the phone number, or any additional info you could get.

People searches on the net represent a huge part of search hits nowadays. When making a business deal, when searching for an ex girlfriend, etc. You'll go look someone up and try to find as much info as possible.

So his free people search engine links to a few professional and not-free engines and websites.

All right, so here's how his deal goes : The whole process takes about 30 minutes to 1 hour, it's REALLY NOT long, considering what you get from it.

You sign up on his website.
Username, and all the usual stuff.

He will then offer you the possibility to sign up with a few of his partners. You do this. Don't pass on it, simply because it's a fully automated system, and you will benefit from the same referral advantages as him, through his partners.

He will guide you through the steps of getting a domain name from GDI. GDI is his host, when you sign up on there he gets referred, when you'll sign up people, you'll get referred. What he got from all these partners, you're getting it.

He will guide you through setting up a Clickbank account, a HD publishers account, etc.

In the end, he will have all the information compiled into ONE SINGLE search engine webpage, which will be YOURS.

On that page, there will be links to all the affiliates he uses, which are now your affiliates, links to the host, etc.

Then what happens. Well you have to advertize your webpage. Awww boring :(

Ah but now it becomes even better. He will advertize it for you, for FREE. And yes, I am saying, for free.

He will make you sign up to a subscription. For the first 30 days you pay nothing. Then of course, his services come at a price (around 30$/month).

Hold on there : I did that. I subscribed with my paypal account. I NEVER, EVER got charged. Like really. People on here know me enough : I don't invest into something if I'm not 100% sure of the risks and potential.

After 24 hours of signing up and closing the whole deal, you get credited of $125. Yup One hundred and twenty five dollars.

Here's how it happened for me : I did everything he asked, followed all the steps.

I waited 24 hours, I got the 125$.

I waited to see how his advertising went, in less then a few hours, I already had huge traffic brought to my search page (you have a traffic stats board, with IP's, url they come from etc). I got hits, I got sign ups to his program, I got paid people searches through our affiliates, etc.

I never had to pay him anything from my credit card. After 10 days, I was already sitting at $450. Of course I did a bit of my own advertising. Twitter, Facebook, a few banners here and there etc. So his fees just got taken from what HE OWED me.

First month, it was around $1,000.

I'm in the middle of my second month, and I'm already at $1,500.

In the coming months, I can expect to make around 3k to 5k per month with him. Extra money :)

Takes one hour to sign up maximum. Then you just have to sit back and relax.

Take my word for it : try it, let me know in a week from now if it's gone according to plans.

Take your time to read everything he talks about on the site, check him out, check out his videos, check out GDI, check out click bank, check out the paying people search engines, etc. Make up your own mind.

Use my referral link when and if you want to sign up, won't cost you a thing, and it will boost my stats, allowing me to get in better standing with Tissa (the man who made all this), allowing me to get better deals for you and anyone signing up under my links.

(This is or direct sign up)

<https://acme-people-search.com/signup.php?ref=1254401758BALY>

This is his pre-sale page, read up a bit about him. It's also referred by me, so if you sign up on this with the link at the bottom, it's my referral also :)

Enjoy.

Well, like I said you don't need money.

All the sign ups are free etc.

But the truth, the one thing you need is a paypal account with a CC. Without that, you can't make sub plans. Even if you don't get charged after that, you still need a CC to sign up for the plan.

It's not confusing at all. But yes it is a bit complicated. How many 2 minute sign up program do you know that can make you 3 to 5k a month ?

This one is a deep and complex build, but once it's done it runs itself, and you don't have to spend hours clicking lame ads. You're the one with a built in page and ads on it :)

If you have in your paypal account the minimum amount necessary for the sub, then yes.

Once again, it will be deducted ONLY after 1 month (30 days). If you're smart enough, and you simply follow his guidelines, then you will not have to worry about paying the sub as you will make largely enough cash.

You do get the 125$ the first day. You can cash out only after you reach 200$, but in not even a week you'll reach that easily, without doing much.

Just advertise a bit on twitter, if you have a website put up a banner or two, etc.

Deesyre - October 3, 2009, 8:43 am

Say i don't advertise at all? will i still make a lot just not as much?
plus i just realized that i don't have the 30 bucks in my pp to start the sub.

As far as I know, if don't advertise at all, his system is still supposed to work.

I'm looking at my traffic right now, there's 60% traffic coming from him, 40% from me.

Most of the referrals I get signing up come from his advertising, because he uses adsense, etc.

I only tweet, post on forums, etc.

So I'd say, without doing anything, it will still surely work.

So do I have to invest anything cause I can't at the moment. I just want to follow these steps to making a amount that if he requires $30 a month I can get it out of the earnings he makes me. Is this correct?

Then you did not follow the tutorial correctly.

When signing up at GDI, which will be the host for your people search page, you need to take a .ws website extension, nothing else.

If you do that, then you have $0 to pay.

If you do things right, and reach a 100% display rate, that he gives you for free in the first month, then it's correct : you will have to pay but it will come out of your earnings since you will earn much more, so it will not be a problem.

I'm positive. I'm telling you, I saw results in under 48 hours. 2 days after signing up, I was already sitting up on 12 people who had used my referrals. It goes up fast.

But like I said, twitter it a bit, it's not that hard :) it will give you that extra special margin.

I used my real info on it. I'm pretty paranoid about my real info considering the kind of work I do.

I checked, double checked, triple checked. I made tons of searches about me, about that domain and the names I had used etc.

Nothing came out, so I'm assuming it is very safe to use your real personal information to sign up on this.

I'll make a few screenshots, compile some info and upload it ;)

Step 2, sign up at GDI, choose a .ws domain name, so you will have a free hosting plan at the start.

Step 3, sign up to his sub, that's where you'll see the whole 30$ per month thing, and you'll see that the 30 first days are free, you will not get charged anything.

(Oct 4, 2009 11:22 PM)tak819 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i done 3 steps..so what now?how to make it to $200? Well, first give it some time to reach 100% display rate, if that's already done then congrats.

When you're at 100% display rate you don't have much to do from a basic point of view.

But like I said, you won't get thousands of dollars without doing a little bit of work. If you simply sit back and wait, it might be a couple hundred.

So, advertise on twitter for example. Use a line such as :

"Down and the crisis is getting to you : Boost your income here [link to your Tissa referral link]" or "Lost someone, need to get in touch with an old girlfriend, a relative. Try us here [link to your free people search engine]"

Don't spam it. First of all Tissa won't like it, your followers on Twitter will see you as a spammer using them to sell your product and nothing else,etc. Tweet it about once every 10 tweets, and only every 6 or 7 hours.

Other possibilities are making a quick tutorial like I did, present the program, and give people your referral links to sign up with.

If you have a website or a forum, put up a few banners (2 or 3 here and there). Not Tissa banners, but for GDI (check the banners you can use in your account CP) or HD publishers banners (awesome and scary banners about "Finding Sex Offenders near you"). This will build your residual income. If Tissa's program makes you 600$ in the month, then the residual income from other affiliates will make you the same if you're smart about it.

Of course not. Tissa will ALWAYS advertise for you. It's when you get the 125$ that it means you're on 100% display rate, that means he's advertising for you.

Check your Traffic Stats ID, and see who is visiting your page. Sent by You, or Sent by Tissa. It's written which is by you, which is by Tissa.

If you just got the 125$, give it a day or two, see how the traffic goes.

As for Twitter, it's not very hard. If you have an account, get some followers by adding up people. 1 out of 3 people you add on Twitter will follow you.

Make a search : "women" or "parents" or "computer" or "games".

And simply mass follow all the people you come up with. If you can add 500 to 600 people, you'll have about 200 followers at the end of the day.

Then simply update your Tweets. Send out a Tweet, all your followers will see it, they'll be directed to your search engine or your referral page.

Type : How to use Twitter, in google. I'm sure you'll find really pro tutorials, free ones of course.

From Tissa's point of view you don't have anything to do.

But you should check out your accounts on clickbank and HD. Go check the commissions and the affiliate programs, check out the resources HD offers. That's where you'll find banners to put up on a page etc.

Make sure you understand EVERY processes involved in the whole search engine page, etc. You'll see that these affiliates offer more possibilities than just the ones Tissa shows you.

Of course not. Tissa will ALWAYS advertise for you. It's when you get the 125$ that it means you're on 100% display rate, that means he's advertising for you.

Check your Traffic Stats ID, and see who is visiting your page. Sent by You, or Sent by Tissa. It's written which is by you, which is by Tissa.

If you just got the 125$, give it a day or two, see how the traffic goes.

As for Twitter, it's not very hard. If you have an account, get some followers by adding up people. 1 out of 3 people you add on Twitter will follow you.

Make a search : "women" or "parents" or "computer" or "games".

And simply mass follow all the people you come up with. If you can add 500 to 600 people, you'll have about 200 followers at the end of the day.

Then simply update your Tweets. Send out a Tweet, all your followers will see it, they'll be directed to your search engine or your referral page.

Type : How to use Twitter, in google. I'm sure you'll find really pro tutorials, free ones of course.

I joined this site since july!

In my opinion, it's not worth time to do this because there are a lot of better methods!
I find it hard to believe. In the last 3 days, if I add up my referred people, just with Tissa program I have 230$ of payments. With the GDI down-line I have, I'm already on $200 for the last 3 days also. My clickbank account is credited of around 80-90 dollars for the last 3-4 days, and my HD publishers account is at $120

If I add up the four things, which are the main income streams I developed, didn't sign up to his other affiliates, I'm at 600+ since the start of October. It's the 5th.
do we have to do anything for our clickbank or HD...as u say u get arround 80~90 dollar...and $120 From Tissa's point of view you don't have anything to do.

But you should check out your accounts on clickbank and HD. Go check the commissions and the affiliate programs, check out the resources HD offers. That's where you'll find banners to put up on a page etc.

Make sure you understand EVERY processes involved in the whole search engine page, etc. You'll see that these affiliates offer more possibilities than just the ones Tissa shows you.

so we do not need to sell product in clickbank ourself?tissa do it for us?

Yes. He has the products on the search page registered in clickbank.

If you check the links on the search engine, you'll see that your ID is in them : endonium for me, for you whatever you choose.

When someone orders something from the paying search engines, it automatically pays a commission to the linked clickbank account. In your case, your account that you filled in on the whole ID's page.

HD sends you checks by the mail.

Clickbank pays by check also.

This is why you shouldn't give them fake info when you register.

But I'm sure you can edit it later.

Adsense offers you the possibility to decide on your payment method once you reach $10. Ok, well I double checked and you're right.

Weirdly enough I continue to get traffic sent by him.

I believe that once the first payment of $29 is made after 30 days, he advertises for you. He probably doesn't during the 30 days free trial.

I've never had issues because I do some advertising on the side.

You can start by taking a look at safe lists, which are lists of people's emails who agreed to receive ad emails, etc.

Check for free safelists here : <http://www.allsitecafe.com/safelists.html>

This will allow you to touch a huge number of people.

What you must do is make sure you have a good title, and a message that doesn't sound all spammy and retarded.

Try and be close to the person.

And remember that you're not advertising to random people (well some of them are), but you're advertising to other marketers who will see your offer and who will sign up under your.

tak819 - October 5, 2009, 3:59 am so it mean after 30days free and i pay for the $29.95..he will send me traffic again?

how to use the safelist?just sending article about tissa with my link?

I'm going to go and check with him and then I'll answer that first question. I don't want to say something wrong right now. But I'm nearly sure that yes, because I still have today some traffic sent by him, and it's been two months +.

As for the safelist, register to one. Then you write something nice about the program, try to send them to a link with images, something that will catch their eyes.

Use the presell page link that you will find here : <https://acme-people-search.com/user.pay.php>

I'd advise to find a good title, something that describes well the program without giving too much information.

Once you are sure you have a good catchy message, simply send it to the safelist members. How to do it depends of which one you register to.

tak819 - October 5, 2009, 4:16 am

Zuaro - October 5, 2009, 10:10 am

SlaYoRz - October 5, 2009, 12:54 pm

dacancan - October 5, 2009, 5:47 pm

Thanks for sharing this information!

itouchmaster - October 5, 2009, 9:06 pm payment proof??? i like to see payment proof before diving into this one i think he makes it so complicated so you get caught into the scheme ????

SlaYoRz - October 6, 2009, 3:10 am

It's not complicated at all. I currently have 65% display rate and am awaiting 100%. Once I get any money I will post proof.

buba4ko - October 6, 2009, 3:33 am

I have website of my own that is built on a wordpress base and it already advertises few clickbank products. Having that in mind you can conclude that i have positive balanced clickbank account.

Can i use the program which you Endonium describe here and connect it with my current clickbank account and my already set up website and benefit from all that Tissa does?

How to connect both my website and current clickbank account and promotions with this system? If you are so kind to explain that to me i will gladly join this venture and try this sytem and give everyone here results with proof when i have them.

I mean can i use my website to set up your system instead of using some .ws domain that i am not sure how long will last?

I answered your pm :)

I'm closing this for now, too many people asking me too many questions.

I'm working on three projects at the same time, it's not helping.

Anyone who has subscribed under my refs, you will be able to contact me through all the channels, emails etc that appears in your program page. Else, pm me here.
