Thread: [\[Tut\] How to implement "Buy now" buttons in your sales thread.](#)[\[Tut for sellers\]](#)

Support™ - August 11, 2011, 8:45 am

Hi all, I thought of making a tutorial to help new sellers on adding autobuy buttons to their sales threads. So, I made up my mind to post this thread.

Now, most of you know how to add "Buy now" buttons using PayPal/ Plimus but few sellers are not sure what to do when it comes to LR/AP/Moneybookers.

Anyway, I am going to explain about these four payment processors now.

Scroll down till you see this.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Click the link "Create a button."

In the next page, fill in your details and product name and click create button.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Now you have the page showing the HTML link. Since we are on a forum using BBcode, we don't need that. Copy the code under "Email" tab and save it in a text document.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Now paste the copied code in your browser's address bar and you should see a payment gateway. Once you have this URL, search for nice "Buy now" images on Google and select one. Add that image to your thread and redirect that to the above PayPal payment link.

So, your autobuy option is ready for PayPal payments ;) Let's move to Alertpay now.

AlertPayGoto www.alertpay.com and login to your account.

Under business tools tab, click "Manage Items/Generate buy now buttons" link.

Click the "Add" button on the extreme right of the page and fill your product, payment details in the next page.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)In the next page, select the link code.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

The link between the inverted commas '____link____' is your payment link. Do the same thing as you did for PayPal button. Search for good "Buy now" image, add it to your thread and redirect it to your payment link.

With this, implementing Alertpay autobuy buttons is also completed.

LibertyReserveThis is very easy.

Code https://sci.libertyreserve.com/?lr_acc=UXX&lr_amnt=123456&lr_currency=LRUSD is the payment link for LR accounts.

Replace UXX with your LR account number and 123456 with your price.

And again, search for good "Buy now" image, add it to your thread and redirect it to your payment link.

So, LR is done and let us move to Moneybookers.

MoneybookersThis step is similar to LR.

Code

https://www.moneybookers.com/app/payment.pl?pay_to_email=youremail@yourhost.com&amount=123456¤cy=USD is the general form of payment links for moneybookers.

Replace "youremail@yourhost.com" with your email and 123456 with your amount change currency if needed.

And again, search for good "Buy now" image, add it to your thread and redirect it to your payment link.

That's it guys. I am stopping here today. If you have any suggestions, corrections or queries, please post here.

Don't put the buttons directly on this website.

Use a separte website , becouse they will see the refferers and ban you.

In case if you are afraid, use goo.gl for shortening/anonymising the URL.

I knew PP/LR/AP but didn't find how to add it for Moneybookers. I spent 2-3 hours to do that.

It is better to make the button to lead to a webpage on your website , if PayPal will see too many users coming directly from hackforums they may investigate and never know might get you limited.

I guess you must work on an autobuy script for something like that.

Codevade - January 6, 2012, 2:34 pm

This is a god damn good way to get limited and or banned from Paypal for AUP violations. I have burned through 3 different paypal accounts in a year until I figured out this was what was causing it.

Paypal is not stupid. They can see HTTP Referrers just like any other website. They will email you saying you have 5 days to comply and remove your payment buttons and sign an affidavit saying you swear you have removed them.

B|?cksí-í?d?w™ - January 6, 2012, 5:22 pm

Nice TuT Support , i already know all of them but its really helpful for many sellers ... ?

Because you don't run hundreds of thousands of sales per month.

Support™ - May 2, 2012, 9:54 am

Bringing this thread up since I needed to do this today.

Oh and remember that moneybookers is charging gateway fees depending on the number of sales you make every month.

Prince™ - May 2, 2012, 10:25 pm

Pretty good tutorial . I will be using it to make Auto-Buy option in my upcoming sales threads . :)

Falconw0w - May 2, 2012, 11:39 pm

Its the truth, this thread is a direct guide on getting your PayPal limited.

This thread is filled with kids complaining about being limited, and you wonder why?

If anyone cares reading few more posts other than the main post, they will come across the comments suggesting them to use a URL shortener. I don't understand what is irritating you much about this thread.

I also have a great history with PayPal limiting my accounts but it hasn't happened because of adding "Buy now" buttons. Savvy?

Oh shit I just read 'Savvy' and then saw your usertitle. You're my new favourite HF member.

BTW Sikandar still owes me his updated source for the Keylogger. He seems to ignore any form of contact.

This one heck of a thread. Im sure this will help a lot of sellers.

Good tut ,but this does not work for AP/payza ,link says 'Seller is unable to receive payments via payza at this moment' when i pretty much receive direct payments easily.

And the error I quoted is faced by many payza users.

Hikki - June 3, 2012, 2:40 am

Nice tut sir. Good for sellers :D

Will be using it :D
