Thread: Upgrading one Member to l33t :\)

630 - August 11, 2011, 11:01 am

Whats up HF. I am looking for one member who hasn't decided to upgrade to l33t yet. I am going to be upgrading one member of my choice. I will try to find a member that is respectful, has given back to the community, and seems like an all around nice person. This is my first time doing this so I am looking forward to it. Lets go. I am ending the giveaway at 2 PM central time.

Comment below using this:

Why you deserve l33t:

What have you done for the community:

How much do you love HF:

Winner will be chosen within the next hour.

Why you deserve l33t:

It its because im trying to built a rep here, and get to know more poeple. and i also wanted to get a rank. but since i cant afford to pay for one. i was hoping someone would sponser me one.

What have you done for the community:

I havent done much yet, i have helped 10+ ppl on TV with domain, youtube and other topic related stuff. And i have helped many poeple come here :) Im also looking forward to provide freebies here .

But i guess im trying to do more and more.

How much do you love HF:

Well to tell you the truth, i came here 1 year ago, and i was looking for hacking help.

Now i see is this forum is much more! it has ppl talking about everything i need to know.

and when i open my pc everyday, the first thing i check is what are the updates here on HF.

Just a suggestion, you should make a limit to post and join date, but nice job on giving back to the community.

Cheat - August 11, 2011, 11:06 am

Why you deserve l33t: Firstly, Because I have done some giveaways and I have positive rep, And also I Respect the community and others. I also feel that if I got it. I wouldn't need to worry about getting the money to buy it, And I can also do more giveaways for other people to enjoy. I also have never scammed here and have met some great people including yourself. My scammer rep isn't true or legit. I also know how to get along with people, And make sure everyone's happy.

What have you done for the community: I have given away, Gamertags and emails. And I do my part to make sure everyone's happy, I'm always happy to help someone if they need help. Also I'm active, hardworking and nice to speak to.

These are some of the things I've done And I know they aren't much, But, I hope to do many more in the near future

Why you deserve l33t: I can't force you to make me l33t, but what I can say is this, I started more than a year back as a really really BIG NOOB, in my way to this point, I have developed myself to a basic hacker and a basic Photoshop user, thanks to Hackforum!! I have been very kind to noobish people because I know back in time when I asked dumb questions that people flamed me :(I have helped several people making money, some successful, some not....

What have you done for the community: I have given away several HUGE and sometimes expensive e-books, 1 ebook which I self made :) is now still active and people are asking copies for more than 2 months!! I could sell it, but I would rather give it away to the community.

I have also helped several people with photoshop issues and have helped people with real life issues.

How much do you love HF: A lot, this community is really friendly and some people are my very best friends!!! <3 If I would have the cash I would donate X amount of it to HF, I would protest to anyone who say this forums needs to be closed.

Thank you!

EDIT: Sorry for my bad grammar, I'm from Belgium.

DreX - August 11, 2011, 11:15 am

I vouch for 630 good member here and nice thing he is doing.

I suggest you take as much time as you can on your application

Make sure you grammar is correct and fluent.

Good luck to all participants!

Why you deserve l33t: would love it. I am a nice person and help when i can

What have you done for the community: helped out anyone i can with advice and even nice to the non leet/uber, we are all humans regardless of tags

How much do you love HF: its addicting

Shot Caller - August 11, 2011, 11:19 am

I believe I should receive L33T from you because I think I am a High Quality Member, I think I am a High Quality Member because I spend time on my posts, and the forums itself. I also have done over 30 giveaways which I will post links to at the bottom, I mainly give things away for free because I normally get limited on PayPal if it has a credit card or not, and that is the main payment system which this forum resolves around. I currently cannot upgrade myself to L33T because I don't have the spare money to spend on L33T, I don't get that much but I am grateful for what I do get.

So I hope your still reading this, but anyway I also am trusted by a lot of members, I have never got a -3 or -1 or even a neutral for scamming anyone and I never have and never will scam anyone on this forum or any others, although I have scammed someone about a year ago for about $10 but that was on a completely different website, and I learnt my lesson by getting a perm ban from the forum itself in which I had 3,000 posts on. If you want proof that I don't scam you could easily PM the latest person who has +repped me for being honest, this is because he purchased a account off me for $25 and the original owner noticed and posted the proof on that forum and it got banned, he sent the money as a gift and I could of easily kept it but I sent it back even though I needed it, I knew that he had done nothing wrong to me or anyone else and it would of just let me and himself feel down, this is because I don't feel the need to scam people, no matter what goes down.

Anyway getting along with the things I have given back to the community, here is a list of the threads I have given out for free.

Why you deserve L33T: I've been a member since '09. I've seen the ups and downs of this community and I've stuck through it. Thick and thin.

What have you done for the community: I've helped out a lot of new members with getting around the site. I've encouraged other members to have a helping-hand mindset, as well as provide advice which is not only helpful on the Forums, but in real life as well.

How much do you love HF: Haha, I've been a member for 2 years (going on 3) now. I don't "love" the site, but it is definitely a site that I have a lot of respect for and visit frequently.

treehuger9000 - August 11, 2011, 11:21 am

Why you deserve l33t: Been apart of this community for quite some time now, offering my services and advice on multiple topics.

What have you done for the community: I have hosted 4 popular give aways, not some cheesy "SURPRISE GIVEAWAY" either a well thought out giveaway either including a tool that may or may not help an individual and also providing knowledge that may help an individual as well.

How much do you love HF: I love it a lot that's why I am on it every single day :)

aKa Chills - August 11, 2011, 11:21 am

Why you deserve l33t: Positive rep it maybe only 4 i just joined but looking to get it higher using l33t cuz it makes u more trusted towards the community

What have you done for the community: Nothing really but looking forward to doing OG give aways i have a bunch of OG tags id like to give away

How much do you love HF: Hf is amazing i was scared at first because of the whole hacking thing and all but theres some really nice people out there and that are actually legit and dont scam but like any other site theres scammers acrylick - August 11, 2011, 11:22 am

Your so generous for giving away a L33t upgrade. You have my respect for giving to the community. :]

EDIT: Good luck to all. ;]

Reptar - August 11, 2011, 11:22 am

Why you deserve l33t: I hink i deserve l33t cause i have given to the community and tried since the 1st day i joined and always will be here giving and giving from every new thing i learn here

What have you done for the community: I have made threads to give back to the community here:

Also helped a few members with Shitcash downloads, also still making one more giveaway today

Quote:Ryze (121) - Last updated 03-27-2011, 08:22 AM

Positive (+3): Thanks for surveys!!

How much do you love HF: I love it more then any other website that tries to be a hacking site

SIM-878011 - August 11, 2011, 11:22 am

I am not going to enter this, because i feel that i am not worthy of this, this is a really really nice thing you are doing. Good luck to every one that is entering this.

rhino11 - August 11, 2011, 11:22 am

Why you deserve l33t: because i like helping people out and since you have a l33t i guess you are more trusted

What have you done for the community:i help people on currency exchange and also give alot of advice and ebooks on ewhoring :D

How much do you love HF: HF is a great place even tough there are alot of scammer wich made me lose more than 150$ but there are some really nice people that are willing to help you out ;)

D?le - August 11, 2011, 11:24 am

Why you deserve l33t: I think i deserve l33t because i use HF a lot of the time, whenever i'm inside i use HF, also any type of stuff i don't need i giveaway on HF, i have given away xbox live accounts with much membership etc.. i would really love l33t because its the closest step to ub3r, i would really appreciate it also. Congrats to the winner also and good luck to everyone.

What have you done for the community: I have given away many free giveaways, i never charge people on HF for anything i always give it away for free because i'm a nice person, i also help new members fine there way around the site.

How much do you love HF: I find HF very addicting because its full of new stuff and its great to learn new stuff. I LOVE HF VERY VERY Much <3

FireMonkeyFun - August 11, 2011, 11:30 am

Why you deserve l33t: I think I deserve it because it would help me give information about other members in there rep if they are good or not. I also think it would help me release more things to the community if I had the l337 and ub3r section to post it in.

What have you done for the community: I have released a list of over a million emails and have also released multiple ebooks all for free. I also have done graphic work for others and all the work I do is free.

How much do you love HF: I love HackForums quite a bit. Sure it has some things I don't like, but no one is perfect. HackForums is really the best hacking community on the internet.

Have a good day kind sir.

marrokos - August 11, 2011, 11:32 am

Why you deserve l33t: Despite of kinda noob i am always trying to help other members in the things that i know more. Always learning more and more with the majority of HF fantastic members and at the moment i have no job and can't afford to pay for one.

What have you done for the community: I helped a few people in portforwading, RATS, i have done some giveaways and doing one at the moment,i released a few threads that help i think other HF members.

How much do you love HF: i love so much that when i come always from a disco with a huge ammount of alcohol i still go to HackForums until going to bed.

Sorry for the english-not native language

JrSadFish - August 11, 2011, 11:35 am

Why you deserve l33t: I try to be HQ, I've helped many members here, I've sponsored many giveaways.

What have you done for the community: I had a major e-whore giveaway with over 250 replies/thanks, I've done a $harecash download service, I've host many giveaways here.

How much do you love HF: Well since I'm so active here, I love HF a lot!

Jail - August 11, 2011, 11:38 am

Why you deserve l33t: I want to be as HQ as i can and start off by becoming l33t, i want to help people get what they want and have a good time on HF

What have you done for the community: well ive done what i can, post HQ posts warn people about scammers

How much do you love HF: i love this site alot, there is alot of HQ people on this site and Omni is awesome so i just love it :)

NotUsingAnymore - August 11, 2011, 11:43 am

Why you deserve l33t:

I think I deserve L33T because I have been trying to help as much as possible. I admit that in the first month I didnt do much for Hackforums but now I think I am more HQ.

I also deserve it because I am a friendly member which cares about others. But ofcourse if they really are pissing me of I can be angry as well.

I have also been trying to get rid of most LQ posts or other posts which dont belongs in threads and such. I dont think that people should "destroy" others threads.

What have you done for the community:

I recently had 2 contests.

I have giving out games. Not as a giveaway thread but to people which asked.

I am helping others with their problems and concerns.

I havent written any tutorials yet but they will come very soon.

How much do you love HF:

I really like Hackforums, not because I am a hacker. I sucks at hacking and such.

But I really like most members here, even that some of the "older" ones can be a little angry at new persons.

Anyway its a nice forum, and will definitely be staying long time.

Last Words:

I will wish luck to all others.

And say how much a nice person you are that you are spending time and money for other people. ?
Spoiler (Click to View)Not that I am trying to steal the chance from others with last sentence

PhineasPhreak - August 11, 2011, 11:44 am

Why you deserve l33t: Because what you are looking for is basically just a description of myself.

Near 100% of my posts are HQ and helps OP in some way (for example constructive criticism) and I always try to look out for my fellow members, because of this I have made some good friends here!

What have you done for the community: So far I have made a unique Firefox thread with tips and tweaks found no-where else on this forum. I have many things planned that will help HF, for example learning to create Crypters for free release, doing likes+subs+comments for ALL members and creating more relevant and useful threads for the community to learn from. I plan on doing free GUIs and themes for the coders of this forum and also hopefully after upgrade I wish to donate my Paypal balance to this forum to keep it running and make it better.

How much do you love HF: Love is such a weak word, I CHERISH every moment on HF and treat it like my last.

Good luck to all participants, may the best person win.

@630: If you would like references and people vouching what I can do and have done, I would be happy to provide.

Immortal - August 11, 2011, 11:45 am

Why you deserve l33t: I think i deserve l33t because i plan on helping lot of people with their programming.. And i would like to support the site as much as possible but im a lot low on cash :(i love Vb.net and learning every day.. if you EVER need help just ask and ill try my best to help you :D

What have you done for the community:

Looks like I don't have any chance :)
Good luck to all participants.

Why you deserve l33t: I don't really know if I really deserve l33t, but I thought that it was worth a try and this might help me get more recognition in the forums.

What have you done for the community: I have not done anything yet, but I have been learning C++ with 2 other people on the forums, one of our plans is making a FUD crypter that we will give away to some other members to try out and rant on, but I think l33t would help spread the word.

How much do you love HF: I visited as a guest a year back, managed to forget the name of the site(how dumb). Then a friend brought the hack forums up and I instantly went to sign up. I have been on the forums every day. :P My friend asked me a question, I didn't even bother to google it, I checked the forums(I found the answer :D).

Why you deserve l33t?

Because I have tried to be as high quality as possible. And I have tried to help people. If I had l33t I would have helped people even more just because l33t will give me motivation.

What have you done for the community?

I have tried to help people even though I still call myself a beginner. I have taken down websites on request and a lot more. I have posted a thread about how to get the program ProxyFire for free, but people kinda don't need it. Even though they are asking about proxies all the time. I have also helped a lot of people with their computer and router problems. I always help people if I can. Yes I may be a beginner but I think I got a little knowledge about hacking/ratting. But I still can help beginners with the knowledge I have, and will always do so.

How much do you love HF?

As you see I have been a member in a few days and I have almost spent 24 hours on HF, I love this community and would love to be a part of the upgraded members. I love the nice people in this community, I love the fact that you almost can say anything without anyone trolling you. Of course there are people that just hang out on this forum just because they want to troll. But they are nothing against the big amount of all nice members like you "630".

Why you deserve l33t: I feel that I definitely deserve a L33T upgrade on Hackforums. Reason being, I am intelligent. I love Halo, money and my super hot girlfriend. Umm what else.. I feel that playing Pokemon while on the toilet shitting increases luck of catching a rare Pokemon. I love ketchup and mayonnaise mixed together. I deserve this shit

What have you done for the community: First and foremost I have provided Hackforums with top of the line HQ post and threads. I have provided nothing but honesty in every post I have made. I have also given installs to the upgraded members of Hackforums. So they can boot skids offline haha.

How much do you love HF: Love is a strong word, I love my mother and my girlfriend. Hackforums is a site. I enjoy visiting and posting my thoughts and opinions. What I do love about the site is the variety of people you get to interact with. People that I may have not been able to interact with without Hackforums.

Why you deserve l33t: I think I deserve L33T because I am active I love HF and I also had all the money for L33T but then I got scammed (I was buying a PayPal account so I could buy L33T :())

What have you done for the community: I have produced HQ posts and helped users!

How much do you love HF:I love it so much it gives me a raging E-Boner!

I LOVE HACKFORUMS!!!! eBONER FOREVER!
