Thread: [PPI Service \[Similar to Rich-Partners\]](#)

MR^E - August 12, 2011, 12:35 am

I am currently in the process of opening a new PPI service which is similar to the well known one "Rich-Partners". The major difference is that our service is safer and has a much larger payout.

Due to the high amount of pay you are receiving for this, we are only accepting serious, mature, and honest individuals (10,000+ installs preferably english speaking [USA/AU/UK(GB)/CA]). Although we prefer english speaking installs, if you have a large amount of mixed installs we will consider that as well. Payment schedule is based on a NET30 payout (Every 30 days).

The first month is your trial month, For 10,000 USA installs you will receive around $200-250 USD a day no matter what as long as your bots are active, payed out as $6,000 - $7,500. (This is just an estimate based on our tested earnings during the trial period on 10,000 USA bots, There is possibility for fluctuation depending how well the installs perform and how active they are)

After the first payout your trial period is over, if you retain the same amount of active bots, for this purpose we will say 10,000 USA bots. You will start to receive around $7,000 USD per day, to be payed out at the end of the month at $210,000USD (This is all an example from test figures of 10,000USA bots, please take into account the fluctuations as mentioned previously)

Our bot is 100% clean and always kept fully undetected (FUD), We do not bot kill, you do not need to worry about our bot getting killed either and having to constantly reinfect to keep up your earnings as our bot cannot be killed by most standard botkilling solutions (This includes the notorious Ruskil technology). Under no circumstance will we run any additional software other then our "adware" system. No installs will be resold, no rogue av software or anything of the sort.

Also, NET30 payment is shit, he'll shut your account down at one day before the payment day. Nothing gives you the right to trash this thread, Nor have we had any communications.

Before you spout your nonsense if you actually talked to me you would realize how Logical our system is, Its similar to other PPI systems, The only difference is we Pay you 40-50% of the earnings rather than 1-3%

Because we are not greedy assholes.

PMing me once with some offer of "Youtube Derived Java-Driveby Traffic" Does not count as communication with me, As the thread clearly states, We asked for installs, not traffic.

Maybe you should work on your Reading and Writing skills so in the future you don't make such obvious mistakes and you might make more sense when you are writing to me about your Youtube Traffic.

Just a question. How do you afford to pay people 7grand per day?

If you read the post you would realise, Its a PPI Service... We are taking a cut because we provide the service, we are just providing a gateway for people with bots to earn their own money.

Oh I see. Thanks for clearing it up :) Good luck finding people with that many installs.
