- ? Small output. Adds as little as 10kb and may even shrink files.
- ? Uses obfuscation have a longer FUD life.
- ? Bypass Kaspersky Internet Security on Runtime!!
- ? Bypass AV's Proactive Defenses!!!
- ? Unicode Encryptions to work on all pcs regardless of language.
- ? Uses CodeDom to create semi-dynamic stubs.
- ? Use your servers startup options.

? Random Encryption Keys on each crypt.

? Simple USG.

? 95%-97% Unique Output on EACH crypt.

? Change/Clone Assembly and Icon.

? Tested working on:

- - - ?Blackshades

- - - ?Cybergate (Mixed review of whether or not its working. I personally cannot get it to work.)

- - - ?Darkcomet 4 3.2 & 3.3 (To use 3.3 make the server in 3.2 and then use 3.3 as the client

Thanks to ArisingDevil for this info.)

- - - ?iStealer

(Will update as others are tested and working. Should work with all though.)

?YOU MAY ONLY SCAN AT NOVIRUSTHANKS WITH DO NOT DISTRIBUTE SAMPLE TICKED, SCAN4YOU, OR my-avscan.(In a later version you will only be allowed to scan from within the crypter.)

?No free or paid crypting services of any kind.

?No sharing VCrypt's executable.

?VCrypt requires that you use it on a machine with no AV's installed. This is to protect the FUD life of the crypter and has had proven results.

Some interesting feedback...

I am crypting on an English 32bit winXP PRO machine.
Bootting it for the very first time makes it shut down immediately. From the 2nd time onwards it works perfectly though.

My unencrypted server file is a brand new file which i just created. I use Cybergate 1.4.8

Here are my findings using novirusthanks:

I used the file pumper, as that was always required in order to get CG server files FUD..

Now I get it FUD if i leave it off... LOL

Nonetheless, might be useful info for you :)

Haven't tested the file yet, gonna do so in a few..

Some other points of attention maybe:

Your post still mentions v2.0.0.0 to be the current version. It now says 2.0.0.1 while downloading though.

I continued as your screenshots also show 2.0.0.1 ...but u may wanna update that File pumper (apart from unFUD issue) can only do 1-100 b/kb/mb pump ...can you make that 1-1023 maybe?

under v1.x i had to pump my server with approximately 180KB or it wouldnt get fud.. (might be the cause of the unfud issue i had too?).

Now the option i would have would be 1MB ...which is a bit much ;-)

* While crypting it shows the progress... I see stuff like 95,43124235341543342%
Not sure whether that was intended/desired..

Ok, will report back on how the server works.. :)

PS: Care explaining why we need to use the server install, rather than the crypt install? (just wondering)

The last file is the largest if you didnt notice so that is why it is FUD. smaller files will receive a detection. I will look into the pumper issue. The version out is 2.0.0.1 sorry about that. The progressbar is an exact percentage of actual progress but since I made everything multithreaded it goes so fast you will see any real progress in only a second no matter how large the file. I would recommend using the crypters install with cybergate as the server install works best with blackshades...

pay 15-50 or so for a crypter that is brand new and lasts <1 month or pay 85 and get a crypter that has been around for 4 months and the coder intends to keep it going for a long time... choice is yours...

Also written in .NET and uses a DLL which fucks up the crypting, however with VCrypt's method, it might be able to crypt.

Odds are, you have an AV installed. Once VCrypt detects it, it shuts right back down.

That typically happens when either :

B: You are trying to bind to a file that is 10 MB or more

A little more info would be helpful.

No settings at all, I only browse for the file, then crypt it. Am I meant to be doing something in specific?

Quack - August 22, 2011, 2:39 pm

The FUD time is outstanding on this crypter, and the time frame can go from a week to a whole month. Usually it lasts for two to three weeks on average. However, once detected, an update shortly comes up in hours to fix that.

haxx0rfast - August 22, 2011, 11:51 pm

I finally bought it, and i have to say good work mate.

An nice feature to add would be the extension exploit with scr. etc and an drop down menü for the normal extension change.

Would be nice if the Crypted server could look like blascr.jpg and not only like blaexe.jpg, but idk if its possible or limited to exe .

Over all awesome Crypter. VOUCH !!

Sikandar could charge alot more but he chooses not to. I will not try to compare the two as I do not want to get into a war between Sikandar and me as I respect him. I have no idea why it matters if I pay for a sticky in the Premium Sellers section as that is the only way to get a sticky. Finally my prices may seem high but the fact is my crypter works great has a long fud life even with 200 customers and does things most other crypters do not. If you have an issue with the price keep it to yourself saying anything about it in this thread will not make me change the price.

looks like this when you run your server cybergate. Why are you running on your machine, who is already infected by your own server. Try another machine and you will see that it works properly, try the "Uses servers instal " on. you'll see it works ..

I think that has helped

Did cybergate work before you tried to crypt it? Do you have ports forwarded? No one will take the time to help you if you dont even take the time to post the details of what is going wrong. For me this has been the best crypter I have ever used. Works for me on both blackshades and cybergate.

my current crypter it gets detected by AVG and norton identity protection which I think is runtime, so when I scan the file it's undetected but when I open it, it comes up as a threat and the AV will block my RAT.

Can you tell me if anybody has tested this crypter with n0pe-bot or cythosia ? I know these arent the best Bots but i only use it for small testing and so they are good enough.

Would be great if somebody can answer my question :)

I just play around with the DDos-Function so i use this bots ;)

Maybe i can send you my unencrypted .exe and you test it if it runs ? Or just crypt it and send it back to me so that i can test it @VMware or so ;)

Ok guys I am going to be spending the next week, more or less depending, updating a few things on the crypter. Some things to look forward to are...

Private startup method(How private? Well I just came up with it and have only told one other good friend of mine who at this time is too tired to understand it lol)

Support for SCR PIF and COM extensions.

Fixing the binder(Had a small bug that if you crypt and bind without closing it uses old binder data making it crash)

Full Kaspersky Bypass at runtime

Rename the injected process name.

Semi-Private process injection method

And possibly junk code if I am patient enough to finish my junk code generator.

Now I will say that the file size may increase due to some new methods that allow your files to be more secure but I guarantee it is worth it. I promise no release date for this and in the unlikely event I have a detection between now and then I will be holding off making it fud until this update. I hope everyone will be happy with these new features...

Lets highlight the important letters here....

VCrypt does not run if you have an antivirus installed. This is to protect the FUD life of the crypter. Those found in violation of any of these rules will be banned with no refund given

Now read that ten times and realize why this is a dumb question... also I removed the AV check... the issue was people making their shit on a pc with an AV and the av would randomly submit files. I have discovered though the issue is not as big as I had thought. VCrypt is a seperate exe from the files it creates.

Good to hear. I do my best... this recent detection had the worst timing. Also there was an Avira detection that popped up when I changed some things to fix the other detection it was a nightmare... I would have liked to have waited another day or so to release this but I was already half way through when I did this so to late now... I am doing my best to check for bugs but can't make to many promises that none will exist.

Okay new version is out now :D Update and enjoy guys :D

Can you possibly make it so that we can chose to use a injected file name?

I'm assuming this doesn't actually mean process injection right? Just gets rid of the typical "injects into vbc.exe" issue.

I actually liked having it run as vbc.exe - When you tried to find the location of the file..

It was within the legit location of vbc.exe..

Also, my BS Server will no longer "hide" after crypting with the latest update.. And yes, I do have "Hide File" checked.

It was within the legit location of vbc.exe..

Also, my BS Server will no longer "hide" after crypting with the latest update.. And yes, I do have "Hide File" checked.

It still does the same thing instead of vbc it uses another process that is in the same area as vbc and just renames it. You can name it vbc.exe if you'd like. As for your blackshades file not hiding... some things you need to note. Be sure that you are not changing the name of the blackshades output file. I am unsure other than that... I will look into it a bit later tonight/tomorrow. Also planned for next version is personal settings. You will be able to load them and such so that you do not have to set everything up every time...

vmartin - September 7, 2011, 10:24 pm

Yea, the file doesn't hide. The output was the same name for both "inject process"/building the BS server/and saving the crypted file.

I would love having truly custom crypting option.. Not a fan of the changing process name.

I thought leaving it blank would turn it off.. Then I saw a process named .exe running and lol'd.

Ya umm if you do not like changing the process name just have it named vbc.exe or whatever... I do not see the issue... as for the name of the inject process do not have it the same as the file you are crypting... oh and blackshades you should use the temp install option instead of appdata...

vmartin - September 7, 2011, 10:39 pm

"oh and blackshades you should use the temp install option instead of appdata..."

Any specific reason to this?

Anyways.. I could have sworn the crypter functioned differently before..

What ever, just seems like the hide file issue is my only problem.

Yes its to help bypass Kaspersky properly on runtime. I have changed a few things but nothing to make it worse only better...

Do i need to make a tutorial for everything guys... just download the update seperately like if you launch VCrypt.exe save the update as Update.exe... then you should delete the old version and rename the new one to VCrypt.exe

Just because this project is four months old does not mean I am new to the scene. THERE IS NO PROOF NVT DISTRIBUTES! You can speculate all you want but I have had no issues with them thus far. Also I understand your trying to be nice/help but this whole "I'm right" mentality makes you look like an ass.

ill need to code an update unsure when I will have it out but will asap...

Vysse - October 2, 2011, 3:41 pm

Just an update. I have figured out fudding it just gotta make sure everything works properly since I did a pretty big recode. I also have two new "features" one being smaller output than before :D...not alot smaller but it is noticeably smaller :D. Another feature is auto pump. Basically this will pump your file your crypting until it is 424 kb... this is the size needed to be fully fud. One thing you may notice is that even if its smaller then 424 kb it will be fud scantime. Well I drop a file to bypass runtime detections that is smaller than the original file. That file must be a certain size to be fully FUD. The jist of it is I recommend using auto pump. Anyways FUD update should be out later today I just gotta work out some kinks. Sorry for the delay guys been really busy lately...

Well bad news guys. I cannot update or create new serials until my auth system gets fixed or I switch. I am working on a switch but have no ETA on either :/...

ESET NOD32 Seems to be a very good anti virus. Anyway, hope the auth systems is working again before my serial is over in 20 days.

Well if it takes that long I will setup a temp system... and after the several Eset dections I will be implementing my av check again because it seems to reduce the amount of detections by ALOT. We went from one detection a week to one a month when I did it last time and now were back at one a week... so I am going to go back and do it the better way :P...

Ok for the time being I can generate serials. I am going to make quite a few just to be sure I have some in store for users :P... everyone who needs a serial please get ahold of me with your info immediately... I will also release the new update today... sorry for the wait guys it couldnt be helped...

Getting a detection with IKARUS Security

Vysse - October 9, 2011, 2:26 pm

Just found out about the detection I am working on it now :D

It may be longer than I thought... I have never experienced this before... basically no matter what I rewrite stuff to it detects one single line... and when I rewrite that it detects another line. It is like they knew how I would rewrite it. I may need to do an entire stub rewrite again...

ArroganTz - October 10, 2011, 12:31 pm

Since complete rewrites of the Stub take a long Time. Would you mind to add a few Days to non-lifetime customers? Thanks in advance !

That isn't as easy as clicking a button... I will talk to the guy who manages the auth system and see if something can be implemented for that though....

why you say scan at novirusthanks they still distribute even with no distribute ticked :)

Vysse - October 12, 2011, 5:12 am

When you order Vcrypt 1 month and 3 month packages, they do have recurring payments. You could either contact Vysse to cancel or stop the automatic payments via Plimus/Paypal.

RAT or other stuff??? If its the RAT then I am unsure your issue... if its the stealer and stuff weve been having issues with pumped files and I am looking into it... the next version will not require you to pump files to be fud...

Vysse - October 24, 2011, 2:44 pm

New version released guys.

-Added a settings system to save and load settings.

-Added obfuscation to prolong fud life.

-It is now possible to be FUD regardless of size.

-Removed Auto-Pump since it is no longer needed.

Seems like an amazing crypter from what I'm seeing, but I did like the old GUI better using the FutureTheme. Anyway, best of luck with sales bro looks great!

Re-download VCrypt, if you try to login you will get a "HWID Mismatch Error"

There will be a option in the settings to grab youre HWID. Once you have it, simply log into SEPA and update youre HWID.

Might be but I am unsure... I will be doing some tests when I get a chance soon to try and figure this out because a few others are having issues as well...most are fine though... it may be the file size which would be shitty...

legendxzero3 - November 5, 2011, 7:48 pm

Just paid for Vcrypt. When do i get the file and stuff in my email?

Crapp... I'm getting the same issue as him.. =( is it cause i'm on windows 7??

Result: (5/35)

Vysse - November 6, 2011, 1:32 am

Bleh I am looking into it.... I am unsure tbh but I still get FUD results last time I checked... could people send me their settings files in a pm that would help alot...

just to prove I am not lying

EDIT: I just double checked that video... the issue seems to be the binder/file size... I will see if its detecting certain code with the file sizes or what but for now its hard to say.... I may need to do a full recode again... it doesn't help I found out a few people have been uploading to virustotal....

see the video you can use startup from the server or of tyhe crypter you can also use net settings

see the threat, its easy

Hey guys I had some major personal problems and haven't been able to keep up with VCrypt. I will hopefully have everything back on track in January and will be giving a shit ton of time to any who have bought between November up until now. All will receive 2 months extra time on top of what they already bought. I apologize for the massive delay with things and I promise I will get everything back on track. I will not be going through PM's at this time but should soon. A new year will bring a new update sorry for the delay guys :/.

Well not in no time necessarily.... I have to entirely recode the stub so that it can be FUD again...

Just another update... it is looking like the following is being detected...

Storage Method or Size

Obfuscation

Decryption Method

DeCompression Method

This is partly my fault for sharing some of this info... however I will be recoding everything and will work on my own obfuscation.

I understand what what situation you're in, because i go to college myself.

Ya it is my first semester and I am just way beyond stressed with everything and haven't had time for anything.

Is there a new time estimate on when it will be all sorted?

Vysse, I have bought a temporarily crypter while you were gone(which was 1month trial). Expecting you would make VCrypt FUD by then.

My 1month trial is over and I don't want to spend anymore money on another crypter.

My question is, when do you AT LEAST 80% think the crypter will be FUD? I know you got a lot of stuff going on but I just want to know.

Honestly its hard to say. I am taking ALOT of classes atm and have no time really... on weekends I am usually catching up on sleep since I get only 4 hours on weekdays. Then theres homework... a lot of pressure. I really do not want to let you guys down... I will figure something out I am sure. The crypter is a mess because I left it alone to long and shared functions I created... something I won't do again so that adds to everything. I promise when I have a realistic ETA I will let everyone know... I am going to give some major compensation as well for all this.

do you have aim or skype let me know man

Sir Cyrano - February 7, 2012, 11:18 am

I'd like buy this amazing Crypter but ...

In the form of Plimus I can't choose the option paypal ??? what's wrong ??

Is Paypal accepted ???

deezjee19 - February 8, 2012, 2:53 am

Vysse..

I understand you are very busy.

Im sorry to say, but I can't imagine though you havent had a single chance for the past three months to update..?

When may your paying customers expect an update?

Please communicate a DATE and stick to it..

The complete radio silence sucks...:(

skunny61 - February 10, 2012, 11:34 am ok Vysse, i understand but yes, communicate just a date

thanks and good luck

hi Vysse,

i can not morre open the crypter (i have pay for life time) can you help me???

thanks

magical toaster - February 19, 2012, 12:33 pm

Unless You're a quantum physics major at MIT college shouldn't take up this much time. Hes just waiting so you can't chargeback on paypal.

Fiddle - March 13, 2012, 1:10 pm

no and my vcrypt isnt working anymore, i guess the problem has sth to do with the hwid. it needs to be updated but i cant cause the link he gave me a few month before is dead. could someone help me updating my hwid? the windows immediately closing again after the crypter is starting.

Banks? - March 13, 2012, 1:59 pm

I'm good friends with Vysse, and I haven't seen him in a while. Don't know what to tell you guys. :/

Pitifoul - March 15, 2012, 1:19 pm

Ok... Hope he is fine for not giving news since a long time :s...

Quack - April 7, 2012, 12:46 am

He's doing the same degree as I am, computer information systems. He said his school work load is way too much so he doesn't have time to fix the crypter. I would suggest you guys find a new crypter and count the money you spent on this as a loss, you won't get it back..

Dont Be Fail - April 24, 2012, 5:55 pm

So the crypters down for good now?

I'm a lifetime user :/

deezjee19 - May 27, 2012, 11:58 pm

I am lifetime as well.

And yes, I consider this one to be gone for good.

Vysse seems to be gone..NOT liking the way this shit is going..

If you stop with vcrypt, at least let your PAYING customers know for fucks sake. I still wouldn't like it, but at least everyone would know whats going on..

Sir Cyrano - May 28, 2012, 2:51 am

This crypter is down ??? or it still selling ??

Vysse - September 24, 2012, 10:53 pm

First off don't buy from me at this time. Second what Quack said is true. I do intend on making this up to you guys however. I apologize that I kinda dropped this but I went from having nothing but free time to working 60+ hours a week plus school. I am closing this for now. PM me with questions.
