Thread: Hack Forums is SOLD

Omniscient - October 8, 2009, 3:14 pm

I have recieved my down-payment and after some heavy negotiations the site is sold. There are still some details we are working on because the new owner wants me to stay involved as the site admin but we are working out compensation details.

At this time I can give no information about who the buyer is but their intentions are to keep the site as-is and to offer new things for him to monetize.

The exact sale amount will not be disclosed. I am not a rich man because of it but it's a reasonable enough sum that I am not unhappy.

One great possibility is that the servers will not be managed by me at all but I can maintain my site admin position and help guide this community and be paid a salary.

This is great news for the community imho as it ensures it's future. I actually did not take the highest offer. I took the offer from the buyer that imho had the best future ideas and intentions for the site.

More news will come out as the next week or two passes. But I have my deposit and we have agreed on initial terms of site sale.

Thanks to all members for being patient.

Beanie - October 8, 2009, 3:15 pm

Nice....

Hackforums has been sold.

Hope the new leader is as good as omni was :).

We will miss you OMNI.

However,

I've registered on your new site aswell XD.

So you can't get rid of me lol

Good luck on running the site !!!

Sora - October 8, 2009, 3:18 pm

Good luck, Omni.

Hide_My_Ass - October 8, 2009, 3:19 pm

Cool, I hope he makes alot of changes

And improve alot of things here because everything is getting old.

Thanks for the update.

VipVince - October 8, 2009, 3:20 pm

Congrat's omni was nice reading you didnt take the highest offer which highlights how much more this site means to you than just money,Glad you'll still be around.

YAY, It's over!!

Glad that it is done and we can move on.

Aaron*1 - October 8, 2009, 3:26 pm

Lol, I've never actually ever heard of admins being paid to be an admin, hell, I've never been paid as an admin, lol...

Anyway, congratulations with the sale...

Well done Omni.

Capitalism: A love story!

Realistically how the site continues to develop is important to me. If in two years this site has died or turn into something terrible it can be a bad reflection on me.

It's not that much less either. I was getting good offers this past week but they were all over the place with how much upfront, down payments, monthly installments, requirements for me to stay 6 months as admin and so on. This was surely a process and it's still going on. I just have my deposit and I know who the buyer is. I am still negotiating my place here.

Ryxa - October 8, 2009, 4:21 pm

Did you meet the buyer in person? lol.

Hope this deal works out great. Also, thanks for thinking about the forum instead of the size of your wallet. Most other people would have cashed out.

Ya'll just wait.

We're gonna be jam packed with ads and pop-ups, Omni was nice enough to do that to the non-reg'd membs, but I have a feeling "monitize" is going to be horrible for the community, but great to profit from.

However from a business standing point I want to congratulate you Omni. You started this damn thing from near nothing and you've babied it, fertilized it with great admins, and in the mean time made a some quick cash off of it by memberships/ads etc.

I've been here on and off from 07 and have seen this place flourish, traffic is astounding and moral is high.

Congrats and goodluck.

But I'm still left wondering what that figure was. Damn..how bout a super secret PM with the cash # inside?

For old times sake? eh?

n3xus - October 8, 2009, 5:53 pm

Crying Blood - October 9, 2009, 5:21 am well i reckon the site will die a death, now that omni is leaven.

i know he said he will be around for a bit as admin etc but lets face it he has started a new site and wont be putting as much time and effort into this site.

he will till he gets his last payment from sale lol

then from there on it the site will dwindle away.

as it is now the site gets just money from members upgraden to L33T maybe the odd add etc.

so if the new buyer is spending 10k + on the site he is gona want to make some money back now how dose he intend doing this. up the fee for membership ? adds? god only knows what then he might see the site he spent alot of money on go by the waste side..

just my taughts :)

QQ more. I just checked; you've posted nothing useful. So, find another site, or quit bitching. It's the owner's choice as to how he monetizes. However, we don't even know if the ownership has been handed over to the new admin yet. So, before you start jumping to conclusions, why don't you actually run the possibilities through your head.

QQ more. I just checked; you've posted nothing useful. So, find another site, or quit bitching. It's the owner's choice as to how he monetizes. However, we don't even know if the ownership has been handed over to the new admin yet. So, before you start jumping to conclusions, why don't you actually run the possibilities through your head.

lol dude no need for the hostility, I wasn't because I respect the other members im just stating my opinion on this topic if im not allowed to do that without someone flaming me then things are definitely in a downward spiral.

Xx1232shooterxX - October 11, 2009, 8:47 am

Pretty sure that's advertising via pm, omni. lol.

youve been here for 2 years and only 314 posts? ???

Biohazard - October 11, 2009, 10:46 am

My view:

HackForums will continue to get bigger for about 2-5 years. After that it will stay about the same or decrease slowly. The quality of things seems to have gone down since I first joined. The only way this site is going to get hyped up is a new generation of members who actually spend time here.

The selling of HF has recently increased views, but I think users are going to start leaving, even though there is no logical reason for it. Kids will get pissed when they don't have their way, what are you going to do?

I believe my view is semi-accurate. Or not, depending on how you look at things.

I'll continually come back, even if I don't post anymore. Just as I have for about the last year.

Raptor Jesus - October 11, 2009, 11:35 am

Hey, I wonder if he'll bring the hackng stories/bragging rights forum back. That was my fave.

KhalidX - October 11, 2009, 11:51 am

Great, now watch how HF dies. :D

I'll continually come back, even if I don't post anymore. Just as I have for about the last year. IMO there's barely any quality as it stands. 90% of posters are 13yo skids, no one is moderating anything, the majority of tuts have incorrect/incomplete info, not to mention all the leachers. No offense but I for one am leaving. Good luck with whatever happens. To improve it would require cultivating a culture of learning rather than all the phishing/plz hack my school shit.

Wickex - October 11, 2009, 1:36 pm

No-one cares if you leave, so stop making all those goddamn posts saying you're leaving.

I'm staying of course.

WhiteFlame - October 11, 2009, 2:00 pm

Well imo there is alot of shit. I am staying because I love the graphics. But I find a spend alot of time here trying to learn and I find our very little. But there is no where else that I know of to go.

OMG, you are an idiot.
Omni did what was best for him, and for HF.
I am ashamed that you are even on here

Tren1050 - October 12, 2009, 1:08 pm

Bi Omni :(But i hope we can buy HF 1337 now.

wow bio, i thought you like died or something. lol. you just disappeared for a while

???v? - October 12, 2009, 5:31 pm

Well, Omni, congratulations on the investment and consideration of our welfare, great business involves the implementation of equal gains/benefits. And you were considerate enough to set aside greed for the outcome of this community in your absence, that in itself shows a great deal about your character as well as your business relations. Could not ask any better and could not think of anything worse this site can not circumvent. Thanks.

SIM-63814 - October 12, 2009, 6:21 pm

good luck Omni, hope HF will stay cool as before, or even better....

mr nooditillion - October 12, 2009, 7:57 pm

does this mean we can talk shit to omni and he cant ban our accounts? JOKE

smalienware - October 13, 2009, 3:47 am

Best of luck m8.

Hope the new admin is good :D

r3yisgood - October 13, 2009, 4:03 am

where's the new admin btw?

we'd like to know him too :D

We still don't know who it is, Omniscient will probably give us an update when the time's right.

Just be patient ?

eXsTo - October 13, 2009, 2:56 pm

Congrat's omni was nice reading you didnt take the highest offer which highlights how much more this site means to you than just money,Glad you'll stll be around.

You tookthe words right from my mouth

Well done OMNI<3

jojojo - October 13, 2009, 2:59 pm

who is the new admin btw ??

shweetu - October 13, 2009, 3:01 pm

good luck.....

Quote: I strongly Disagree with Elektrisk. This Site is Worth being Up whether or not They cant Maintain it. Its a pro Site.

Have you looked at any section besides the Keylogging section? ?

Zero Phlame - October 13, 2009, 6:34 pm

Wow, for the short time I have been here while the forum has been yours omni, I have to say, you did a good job.

WhyIOwne - October 13, 2009, 11:06 pm

good luck with your new forum!

Ok, when is the new owner taking over?

Omniscient - October 14, 2009, 4:22 pm

I spoke with him today. No actual date. He is investigating a few things.

So... that basically means someone bought the forums, but you are still running them? And basically, the new owner has no involvement whatsoever?

EDIT: Didn't want to post a new thread, but if new l33t subscriptions are not... erm... possible, then can I change my username without buying it?

Bulletproof™ - October 15, 2009, 1:36 am
