Thread: Lower the Minimum Post Count

CM Punk - August 16, 2011, 6:08 pm

To be honest, I have seen more low quality posts than High Quality posts after you required 50 characters. Either lower it or be more strict about it like a 15% Warning level.

Thanks for reading my Suggestion!

How hard is it to report the post that is LQ ? Staff will deal with it when they get online.

No offense, but I will celebrate with a nice cup of great English tea in my backyard the day this section gets closed. That day can't arrive fast enough. X2

Omni just added this new character limit. Why would he remove it?

H??????a X™ - August 16, 2011, 6:09 pm

Just report them and staff will deal with it. After two warnings they will be put in the limited group. I'm sure they will get tired of being limited and follow the rules after that, won't they?

I dont like this 50 character thing now its annoying sometimes saying 2 words would explain a whole lot

CM Punk - August 16, 2011, 6:10 pm

That's the thing, whenever I go on I have to report it and when I check later they have no warning level. It's ridiculous!

Lugia - August 16, 2011, 6:11 pm

I only complained at the first day this happened. Right now, I don't really.

But some may follow.I meant to say why would he lower it when he just raised it. ???

and

What do you mean by more strict? Two LQP warnings then your limited.

But sometimes most of them don't even get it. Maybe more staff?

I would love to see more staff though. Considering there is about 1,000 members online daily, I think there should be about 20 staff members and they should all have a good amount of online time and all from different time zones. So we can have staff online 24/7. ?

Anyways this was my suggestion and I'm gonna close this thread.
