Was a quick job, meaning magic wand and not pentool. I just put it here for people to use otherwise it would be in the RMG section.

Nice render pretty clean other than a few pixely area's.

I'm a little confused why you put your own name on there if the art isn't yours however.

=/ Kinda kicking the original artist in the balls as it could be misleading.

Youve never seen a watermarked render before? Thats what people do when they render an image...

Find me the original artist and ill always be happy to credit, i got this off a public domain which came with absolutely no info about the uploader. -.-

I know I know.
I'm just saying I don't feel people should watermark renders in the first place as it's misleading.

also, maybe tinyeye the original and try find one one an art community page such as deviant/sheezy art?
