Thread: [Disable URLs in \[Spoilers\] or just disable spoilers.](#)

R1chard™ - October 19, 2009, 1:24 pm

Seriously, those URLs in spoilers piss me off so much.. especially if I don't feel like quoting. Rickrolling/Meatspinning/Javascript tricks are annoying as hell and the rules state you must act as if you're 16 or older. This is clearly not acting like 16+... Also.. you should ban Notorious Metal and a few other lounge spammers for constantly acting like they are under 9 years old.. it's the lounge.. but come on? You don't have to act THAT stupid when you obviously aren't.

?agicSpeed™ - October 19, 2009, 1:26 pm

Nobody can be as perfect as me and makes the lounge so funny. For the links in spoiler, I agree. It's annoying, I got to check the link in my browser every time I want to click a spoiler.

Vorfin - October 19, 2009, 1:32 pm

Just check what you are clicking. It says in the bottom left of your screen. Or just browse with javascript turned off.

R1chard™ - October 19, 2009, 1:39 pm

Chrome allows me to stop multiple javascript alerts from pages but it is still annoying and immature.

Hawkins - October 19, 2009, 1:49 pm

Just because you don't get someone's sense of humor that doesn't mean it's childish or immature, it just means you have a low IQ.

As for the links, they are annoying but YOU are the one who always should be cautious if you don't like those annoying things. Better safe then sorry.

Only 9 year olds would think meatsp1nning someone is funny. That does not mean I have a low IQ. (Why do you care if I do anyways?) Also, yes it's childish and immature. You don't see 69 year old people being liek "MEATSP1NNED OWNED, LIKED THE DICKS?"... you see 9 year olds do that tho.

lol I dnt have that anymore, I'm over it :P it's starting to piss ppl off lol.

In that first line I was talking about Notorious Mental`s sense of humor, not the meatspinning shit but you didnt get that, something that proves that you do have a low IQ.

How does that make sense? I agree with the OP. It's not a matter of whether your sense of humor sucks; it's a matter if people just want to be jackasses for no reason. I realise the Lounge is basically /b/ now, and I personally can't stand it. But, if I want to hang out there, I shouldn't be looking over my shoulder every time I click a freaking spoiler/URL.

R1chard™ - October 19, 2009, 5:05 pm

I just realized Hawkins is General-Hawk, no wonder the guy hates meh and is raping my thread.

Riverthief - October 19, 2009, 8:18 pm

All you have to do is take 2 seconds to look down and see if it says "Javascript:void(0)" or "http://inserturlhere.com". Not that hard. Yes its a little childish to have them in a post/sig, but I think it's a lot more childish to bitch and moan about it.

Nima304 - October 19, 2009, 8:38 pm

/support.

I've been Rick Rolled and shit so many times now, it's irritating. Every time I have at least 7 important tabs open, it gets annoying to open them all up again.

I'm not "bitching" or "moaning" jeez. It's a suggestion but apparently HackForum members call everything "bitching" and "moaning" Fucking kids.

fagalite - October 19, 2009, 9:22 pm

if you cant disagree with Richard, then you are childish and immature yourself... really guys, meat spins, rick rolls.... N2H i enjoy looking at beautiful women in questionable poses as well, but your sigs get out of hand some times.....

if you say he is bitching and moaning... close hackforums, and leave. Same goes to you rich, if you feel the forums arnt right for you, leave.

I3gmac - October 19, 2009, 9:51 pm

Im not sure what spoiler trick your talking about \(Click to Hide\)

it only drops down sort of like a hidden panel

Yeah i'm done with the spoiler thingy, but about the chick.. well one mod PM'd me complimenting my sig and another +repped me for it lol, so it cant be thaaat questionable :D

I support this idea thing I guess, i see how it would annoy you lol.

edit: nevermind, guess omni dont like it lmao. i'll stick to funny shit.

(no hard feelings on nightmare :P)

AntiVirMan - October 19, 2009, 10:36 pm

Well, I don't have spoilers enabled anyhow, thanks to NoScript for FF,

If I really feel the need to see something without enabling javascript, then I can take a look at the page source.

Also, I had never heard of meatspinning before, so went to take a look at m3atspin.com, which is my first and last visit there, as it's not really to my taste...;)

BTW, had to edit m3atspin, as it came out as youtube, so that gives me an impression as how it is regarded here.

fagalite - October 19, 2009, 11:58 pm

yeah meat spin is not liked, AT ALL here, actually posting misleading links like that isn't allowed on HF.

yeah, i have an understanding of the rules, i just dont follow them.

GR1ZZLY - October 20, 2009, 12:39 am

Just double click the top of the window and then close the tab. Yeah you have to click a few times, but, you don't loose your "important tabs." You guys that whine about every little thing are the ones that need to start acting like you're over 16.

? Elektrisk ? - October 20, 2009, 12:43 am

Okay, let's assume that I wrote a tutorial on Rainbow Tables. How would people react if I put a smouch.net/lol link in place of the download link for the BOINC client? I'm sure they'd be very annoyed, and there'd be a lot of complaints. I'd probably even get warned for it. I don't see why this should be any different.

@Nima

Seriously i am the same dude, it's a pain in the ass when it happens and i think it's about time a more adult approach is taken to this forum. Either by submitting your over 18 to be able to post. Under that age then bye bye.

What a stupid idea, HF would lose more than half of its members.

Just hand out warnings to people who post misleading links to vulgar, 18+ or annoying (pop ups that force you to close firefox.exe) sites.

They are a good plugin, I dont think taken off, just warnings issued for doing that kind of thing.

Because you are asking/tricking people into clicking the link. In a signature, you don't have click it, or even read it.

oliver96 - October 20, 2009, 10:20 am lol I always check the links now to make sure it's not a rick roll. I only got rick rolled once by it. It should only be once. After that you should learn not to be a dumbass and check, or just turn of javascript/use google chrome. I don't really support this. It's just a joke, get a sense of humour. It's not hard to avoid, if you just look. (;

Did you even read what he wrote about Notorious Mental ? He was talking about his attitude not his meat spinning [Which he doesnt even do as far as I know].
Also if you want to hang out in the lounge and not want to look over your shoulder every time you are about to click a freaking spoiler then DON`T CLICK THEM!

Okay, don't get me wrong; I check links before opening them nowadays as well. It's just, you can't deny that it's human nature to be curious. If they have a spoiler in their signature, a person is going to want to see what's under it.

What are you on about? Richard said only 9 year olds would find meatsp1nning funny, and you said "just because you don't get someone's sense of humor blahblah". Who cares if its his sense of humor? Obviously the majority of the people here don't find it funny.

Yes, but that's what makes it so funny, people fall for it every time, and it is effectively social engineering all the "Master Hackers" here.

Hawkins - October 20, 2009, 10:57 am

He didn`t said only 9 year olds would find meatsp1nning funny, he wasn`t talking about meatsp1nning on the line where he mentioned Notorious Mental, he [Richard] hates NM so he was bitching about NM`s attitude and spam [For which NM gets warned by the mods if they do their job properly].

On the other hand, as I said on my first post shit like meatsp1nning as childish and immature but yet again "THIS IS THE INTERNETZ NIGGAH" so watch out, and also The Lounge and the sigs aren`t the only places people post meatsp1ns and shit.

P.S. If you don`t find something funny ignore it and let the people who do HAVE FUN.

? Elektrisk ? - October 20, 2009, 11:14 am

Well, clearly nothing is going to be done about this, as I recall Universal making a topic about it before and it getting closed for whatever reason. Many people have brought this up in the past, so this discussion is rather pointless. I'd love to see something odne about it, but nothing will be done.

Omniscient - October 20, 2009, 1:07 pm

I guess I should respond and end this.

I am not going to disable urls in the spoiler since in many cases it's useful. You have make sure the links you click are indeed valid.
