Thread: [\[Abstract\] Ring of water](#) [\[Rate\]](#)

Sejskaler - September 2, 2011, 1:21 pm

Hey guys, long time since i put something in here, but well im busy with school atm...

So my speciality is abstracts, i just like doing them :D

I saw a ring of fire, and thought "hmmm, what about water?"

So, i started to do some gfx.

I think the outcome is quite good.

Tell me what you think ;)

That is absolutely sexy.

7/10, -3 for you making it :p.

ur8 m8 - September 3, 2011, 11:36 am looks amazing!

was it hard to do?

because it looks it!

Not really, actually, but still, it took some time :)

Perfection™ - September 3, 2011, 11:51 am

This is absolutely awesome.

Wish I could do this :)

What program did you use to create this?

Btw it looks nice the heart is wierd though lol.

You didn't make these from scratch, they're clearly photo manipulations. Some of the details are too intricate while others are very sloppy.

ZeroPercent - September 3, 2011, 5:46 pm kinda confused as to what this is :/

I used brushes, and the custom pattern tool.... soo well, somewhat from bottom, and where did i state i made it from the bottom?

It is abstract figures, made out of elements ?

tehbrrrz - September 4, 2011, 1:20 am

Looks nice, you may add some blur to make it look a little better.

C is the best with the nice lightning :D

My rating : 8/10

Well, i tried with some blur, but didn't like it :P

And the lightning, simply is just a flare :D

OhhMyyGoshh!

Tell me, How did you make these?

It is quite easy, get some water brushes (or another element).

Make a figure, and warp the water (or other element), to fit the figure.

Add some color correction, and you are done.
