D??M! - September 3, 2011, 12:35 pm

Two weeks down, and I can safely say we've have a strong impact on Shell Booters. With over 50 Booters being hit, and 30+ of them staying down or going into hiding, I'm sure in no time we'll have a clean marketplace where only the strong survive and the weak are pushed to either adapt or die.

Earlier today Orgy released an updated list of Shell Booters on the site. This list contains booters with incompetent owners, public sources, public shells, and other shitty "features" which disgrace our market-place. I see far too many of you complaining that 'this isn't SkidForums, this is HackForums,' well if that's the case lets act like it. Stop sitting around letting this filth exist, make sure those who actually worked to create a shell booter are rewarded, and those who are trying to scam their ways into a quick buck are punished for it.

I don't give a fuck what anyone else thinks about this, BooterDown will be coming out with a list of Booters in which we feel are acceptable. These Booters will be the ones that have shown that effort has been put into them. That time, dedication and money have all been invested and that the owner is actually aware of what he's saying. I'm not trying to force this list upon anyone, simply making a list of Booters of which we feel you will be most impressed by.

That's the point. Booterdownd is made to provide all the information necessary to take down Booters. We rely on the community for about 90% of the takedowns, and we are incredibly grateful for that as well. All the booters on the right side of the site are there for users to know they exist and to look into them.

Why did you do that to me!

MasterShake - September 3, 2011, 1:36 pm

I know most would not agree with me but, Do you really think that its your dissipation weather these booters should get dosed? I really don't care as I don't host a booter but, still why attack them if there really that bad then they will just go down on there own.

And some one was saying that you not doing this for you your doing it for the community well I bet it don't hurt being 1 of the 10 booters you plan to leave up.

I'm not trying to troll just wanted to express my opinion.

D??M! - September 3, 2011, 1:37 pm

It certainly doesn't hurt to be that 1 out of 10, and I wish them the best of luck with sales.

What the hell? How many times do I have to say it? We do not (D)DoS these booters. We send in abuse reports.

OK well that makes it different I only thought that it was fucked up because you were dossing them but if your not I really could care less about the other booters. BTW, Thanks for cleaning the marketplace.

No, I just wanted to know why you like it. Many booters you took down were pretty strong, some equivalent to "Stressed Out!". What makes "Stressed Out!" better than other booters?
