Thread: HAS ANY ONE USED ACTIVE DIRECTORY DIRECTORY SERVER?

ENGR.OSMOND - September 5, 2011, 12:18 pm

HELLO GUYS,

I KIND OF VENTURED INTO SOMETHING THIS WEEK ON A NEWSPAPER VACANCIES, THAT SAYS ANY ONE WITH EXPERIENCE ON COMPUTER ANALYST, COMPUTER NETWORKING AND WITH A VERY GOOD EXPERIENCE ON ACTIVE DIRECTORY DIRECTORY SERVER 2003 OR ABOVE, I BECAME CONFUSE, COS I USED TO KNOW NETWORKING, COMPUTER OPERATION AND MANY MORE BUT SEEM NOT TO UNDERSTAND THIS PARTICULAR ONE (A.D. SERVER 2003). I TRIED FINDING TUTORIALS ON IT BUT THEY WERE ALL POOR, IF YOU GOT ANY OF THESE ANSWERS PLS FEEL FREE TO REPLY:

HOW TO INSTALL A.D. SERVER

HOW TO MANAGE THE DOMAINS/USERS/SECURITY

HOW TO REMOTE CONTROL OTHER SYSTEMS THAT ARE PROBABLY NOT A.D OS BUT XP, VISTA AND 7. I WILL GRATEFUL GUYS IF U FIND THE BEST TUTORIALS ABOUT ALL THIS LISTED ABOVE

THANKS?

For something like learning AD you are probably better off getting some books, eval copies of the OS, and setting up a little test lab. Check the Microsoft for information also. If you want this for a job, I wouldn't rely on some half baked unreliable guides.
