Just clicked on a few links, great job. Well done man.

ra1d - September 15, 2011, 12:35 pm

I'm glad you liked it.

I hope other users might find it useful.

ubbelol - September 15, 2011, 12:36 pm

Kind of useless thread, could've just posted a link to:

<http://www.homeandlearn.co.uk/csharp/csharp.html>

Prominent - September 15, 2011, 12:37 pm

I have a C# ebook collection I can give you the link if you want to add it .

Great thread you got there !

FearMe? - September 15, 2011, 12:41 pm

"By Delicious"?

Lolno, give some credit to <http://www.homeandlearn.co.uk/>.

All you did was make a thread with the same things you can find on that website.

No problem, I'm glad to help you.
Feel free to PM me with any questions.

noober1001 - September 17, 2011, 5:23 am very very very good man.

Thank you so much for this.
It helped me a little but.

All you did was copy + paste the links from H&L. Why not just link the website?

Why not just be thankful?
I decided to compile the links in one thread to make it more organized than the website it self.
Now go whine somewhere else I don't wanna see it in my threads.

I'm not whining or flaming your thread. I'm just saying the links are already organized on H&L. I appreciate you trying to help the community but it just seems pointless. Could you explain the difference?

Copy&Pasting the links with the exact same title/content into a new thread just seems nonsensical.

Now i'm waiting what Delicious have to say about all these... On the other hand C/P without giving credits it's not really good thing. . .? Is it?

This one's the same too? ? I mean, at least give credit, that site is copyrighted.

What the fuck guys?

I didn't copy paste the thread.

I simply compiled links to a website that will learn you the following steps.

Nowhere in the thread have I been stating that I wrote the tutorials.

I actually claimed that I didn't write the tutorials.

Should also be pretty obvious that I didn't write the tutorials when the steps are linked to home and learn. ???

d@rk5id3 - October 2, 2011, 7:59 am

I'm just getting started in learning C# Great guide, It's very helpful. I got it bookmarked. Thanks for the great TUT

SweetJames75 - November 2, 2011, 1:37 am

Hey there D, I am just getting my feet wet with C# and I appreciate you putting together these links. Bookmarked and folder all to itself, been hitting the TUT's hard and have already learned a ton.

I'm glad you like my compilation.

I hope you will learn C# successfully.

SweetJames75 - November 2, 2011, 1:50 am

I am sure with a little determination and a load of coffee I will get this fairly quick.

Krox - December 4, 2011, 9:30 am

I'm learning C# right now, this will help me a lot :) Thanks!

XaxTor - December 6, 2011, 8:52 am that is useful tutorials thx for that

ItsOfficial - February 20, 2012, 12:31 pm

Brilliant, just started learning C# and this is a big help.

peekemans - April 4, 2012, 10:54 am xxxxxnitinxxxxx - July 6, 2012, 1:08 pm

People may criticize you.

Have seen comments of some dumbs here. Do know what they think themselves.

But for me and all starters in C# .Thanks a lot for creating this thread and keep the good work up.

0_0 - July 12, 2012, 3:50 am

I applaud you for creating this, so much detail and very nice thread.

I have learned some C# basics now.
