Don't like it at all, but that's just my honest opinion, some people might like it a lot.

Chuck Norris . - September 20, 2011, 11:55 am

The color scheme is horrible.

The only nice things is that progress bar o.O

Androcir - September 20, 2011, 12:10 pm

The colors must be those, its refering to coca-cola... so...

Anyways, thanks for the feedback, i'll do it better in the next version.

As for now i sick of this theme xD

shanker - September 20, 2011, 12:11 pm

Needs more black and silver, just looks like a red blob. No offence.

Mystic - September 20, 2011, 12:11 pm

DeMoNi - September 20, 2011, 12:14 pm

The progress bar is the thing I get the most /coca-cola/-(ey?) vibe from. The red is just to harsh imo, and the yellow button border is definitely a no no.

People already told me about the red, and i'll defenetly change it in the next version. As for the yellow border, if you notise, in the coca-cola logo, there's some yellow going around =)

All of this. Since when does Coca Cola have some blinding background to their backgrounds on their labels? They usually have extremely simple but very aesthetically pleasing labeling/packaging. You're doing too much here.

I am going to be straight and to the point, the theme for the most part is kind of bad. The progress bar on the other hand is pretty good, I suggest you keep trying. You definitely have potential at making great themes.

I have respect for anyone that dedicates their time to make something as of this,

But the red is kind of hurting my eyes, no offense :)

No problem man, the red is the main negative thing in this theme for what people have been saying.

I'll work on it in the next version =)

I will give some advise go here <http://www.coca-cola.com/en/index.html> look at all their product designs etc and if you could pull of a coca-cola zero theme thats sleek and dark/shiny that would be cool :)
