Before you start reading, I take NO credit for this...I found it here.

Ewhoring 101 - Start Ewhoring Here

I see a lot of people who are starting to ewhore, and a lot who may need some direction. There are many faces of ewhoring and I am going to try my best to both explain ewhoring and how to do it.

What is ewhoring?

Ewhoring is a generalized term thrown around by marketers - when we say "ewhoring" we are referring to using an fake girl on the internet who whores out her body for signups to a website under your referral link. Obviously since she is fake the guys don't end up "getting some" in the end.

Now that you have a basic idea of what ewhoring is you probably want to know where to start. Well, believe it or not there are many different directions you can go in. The question of where to start is not simply answered as most people put it: "just sign up for CU/CD/SC/MC/(insert network here) and post some ads and you will magically make money."

This type of answer is misleading for it implies that the process is easy. Furthermore, this type of answer is vague because there are many different networks out there, many different place to post ads or your profile, many different ways to respond, different niches, ect...

So lets start at the very beginning, at step one. I am going to pretend I am going to start ewhoring right this second this would be my general thought process.

Resources:

The very first question I would ask myself is what are my available resources? Do I have money to invest in automation or do I need to start with no investment. Do I already have hosting, domains, a server? What do I need to make this work.

Now some people will have more resources than others but you do not need any to start with (other than an internet connection that is).

Niche:

Once I evaluated what resources I will have available to me I would figure out what niche I am going to promote. Most people skip this part and just go straight for the girl seeking a guy niche. What they don't realize is that this step is very crucial to the whole process.

The niches generally include: men seeking women, women seeking men, women seeking women, men seeking men, person seeking group, group seeking person, transgenders seeking men/women.

Don't skip out on this, do research and figure out what would convert best for you and your setup. Don't assume that women for men is the best niche because in my experience ITS NOT.

Affiliate Site:

What kind of site are you going to sign up for? Are you going to do a free sign up site like say adult date link or are you going to do a credit card sign up like CU? Or are you going to promote CPA offers? There are many different directions you can go into. Let me break it down for you.

Free Signup: These sites require less information and you will get more signups but your payout will be less. You are generally payed on a sliding scale depending on how many of your free signups converts to paying members. This is usually good if your setup is fully automated - this is not good for chat members imho.

Credit Card Signup: This is the best option for people who chat their memebtrs into signing up. Payouts vary but are generally high and if you make one sale per hour and work 8 hours a day you will certainly make over $100 a day. This is also a very good solution for automated users but generally require a lot of setup and a bit of money.

CPA: This is a very good option for automated members as it is usually a pay per free signup offer that pays better than pay per free signup sites.

Okay, hope you guys are still with me here...

Now your signed up for an affiliate site and you have your niche and you know what direction your going in. This part of the tutorial I wont go into gruesome detail because there is a wealth of information out there but I will go over the general idea of each way to proceed.

Automated Posting:

This will require tools and possibly proxies or a dynamic dsl connection. If you are posting of craigslist you will need email accounts, proxies, clad genius, ad copies, an autoresponder, PVA's or phone verified accounts. There is a lot of information out there on it so do your homework! For backpage or Kijiji or Gumtree you will need automated posters, email accounts, ad copies, proxies, and autoresponders.

Automated Mailing:

You will need a mailing solution - either a desktop mailer or a hosted mailer like interspire. You may need proxies, loads of email accounts, a tokened message, a decaptcher account, and autoresponders.

Chatting:

You will need profiles on social network sites such as myspace, facebook, plenty of fish. You may also manually post on craigslist or backpage or other places. You will need advil and a lot of coffee but its okay because if you save some money you can easily automate your methods.

Once you have your methods setup its time to apply! Many people make thousands of dollars a day ewhoring!

A note on autoresponders:

I suggest starting with ez autoresponder which you can find free hopefully here - if not somebody upload it! You will need to have hosting and a few domains to use for this and check your hosting to see what your mailing limits are (usually 200-500 an hour with a 2k cap a day). Then setup ez autoresponder to do delayed messages I would look into using a 2 or 3 reply message. Check your domains against blacklists daily and change your message up every few days as well - also don't forget to token your message!
