Thread: Remove Ub3r from the forum team page

Nightmar? - September 29, 2011, 8:11 pm

I think Ub3rs should be removed from the "Forum team" page.

Personally I think if the Mods got there own page, and aren't listed on it, the Ub3rs should just be removed and/or put on there own page.

Not a bad idea.

Especially since when I set a group as my display group I am off the page.

I hope Omni will take this into consideration.

I've suggested this before.

People argument was that people "Paid for it as one of the features." And that Ub3r was a modified moderator group.

Like it's such an overlooked feature.

I agree completely.

That's why MAYBE to make there own page. I mean mods aren't even on that page.

I agree with this. There's no point in having thousands of Ub3rs listed there.

Nigga you crazy? That's a feature I love, even if it's pointless because it's super long and nearly impossible to find someones username in the list, doesn't mean we don't need it xD. Just kidding that thing is useless, if anyone tries to find someones username in that list it will take them forever or they'll just use CTRL+F, so I'm all for this. Remove the l33t user list why you're at it Omniscient.

The l33t user list has been removed for awhile. Where have you been?

Bro I've been busy. I never even look at the forum list xD. I'm surprised I never noticed that though ?.

Sol Yurick - September 30, 2011, 6:33 am

Why does it even matter. I see NO point.

Canon - September 30, 2011, 6:36 am

Just put them on a separate page. That'll solve it.

BritishKitten - September 30, 2011, 6:40 am

What's the point in removing this?

Hardly anyone look's at that page anyway.

Spasilac - September 30, 2011, 6:41 am

I totally agree with you.

And some of you know why ...
