Nice post, and I think the ideas you conveyed hold true for most sections and sub-sections on HF.

Being all of these things is fine, it only gets bad once that person goes out of his way to condemn other members for LQ.

I never complained about AA, so yeah. It's always a nice section where we all share the same passion, that's why I keep posting in here. The members in this section are very friendly. Then there are some that are assholes, but we just have to ignore them, not a big problem.

/Inb4 everyone asks what the fuck AA is

Professor Pantsu - September 30, 2011, 7:15 am

I just think all the meta threads need to stop. We have meta threads of meta threads. I don't think it's really that AA is "changing" for the "worse" but it's just that some people have just grown tired of AA a bit and in turn thing it got worse. When in reality it's just there taste that got worse. Well, that's just a theory. People just need to stop making threads about bitching and do there bitching else where, like the IRC channel or some shit.
