Code BATCH-O-MATIC is a C++ written batch virus generator. It generate worms that (also using WSH) infect files, spread through internet and use lots of interesting payloads and techniques..

You have 1 post, your image is broken and there is no virus scan. No one will believe this as they would think this is a virus itself.

hmmm u seem pretty untrustworthy. I'll scan it first edit: you didn't even create this. And it's from 2003. made by SAD1c

He seems untrustworthy because he is new? I am not saying he is trustworthy but it seemed a little soon to be making that accusation in my opinion.

Possibly, I personally like to consider people innocent until proven guilty.

I wouldn't trust this. There are 100 other ones posted by trusted members. Not saying this is a virus, just saying that in my OP it is silly to release something for your first post.

Not sure to download? Seems abit sketchy to me, but wouldnt judge a book by it's cover.

UFOria - October 20, 2011, 5:04 am

Yeh that's fine guy's don't download if you do not wish i just wanted to start sharing straight away. :)

It's not a virus, you can find it at vxheaven.org, all programs their are safe, and are used for research, but also detect as a virus. He may have attached a dangerous file to it, but regardless antivirus will still detect it.

Thanks for telling him that, I'm sure he got the memo this makes me genuinly sad that someone would think a worm from 2003 would still work today, tough luck bud, but it wont.
