You MUST have iOS5 in order to use my method!
Go to Settings >> iCloud
Set Mail to ON
Sign in with your Apple ID
Follow the directions to choose your @me.com name

That's it!

Then can we use this as our iMessages name?
If we could that would be awesome.

Someone really needs to make an Email with this but the beginning needs to say get.

get@me.com

iRun - October 13, 2011, 2:56 pm

Thanks for this man! Mine is tdrunner95@me.com

I didn't get asked for a password?
How do I use this email addresses?

The password will be your Apple ID's password. I haven't tried using it with iMessage, but I'm sure you could.

Thanks for all the replies everyone :3

I got it working as my iMessages username, but I'm not giving that one out yet.

Only to friends.

I'm in my iCloud settings, but I can't figure out what to do after that. Not finding a place to sign in with my Apple ID.

Thanks, going to do this once I'm done charging my iPod touch 4g

Twicks - October 16, 2011, 1:19 pm

Nice. Hope this continues to help others. :3
