Thread: Judge Dredd was hacked by me

Moron24 - October 13, 2011, 7:21 pm

Hey everyone,

If you've been checking the ban page you'll notice Judge Dredd is on the list:

<https://hackforums.net/bans.php>

Thats because when I was in his account, I PM'ed Omni asking him to remind me what the credentials were for the admin panel. My plan was to download a backup of the HF database so that I could read the private messages of all users on the forum.

But alas, I was not aware that Omni had tightly secured the admin panel and that even if I could access it, there was no way to download the database.

Here are some screenshots I took:

Staff members please refrain from banning me. I'am going to be returning Judge Dredd's email accounts through a PM to Omni with his credentials. ?

Copy this thread and keep it saved somewhere and share this with all your friends cause this thread won't stay on HF for too long.

Yeah, because they really won't ban you from this site for hacking an admin. Idiot.

Douchebag # 145 - October 13, 2011, 7:23 pm

LOL, if you did this, Dredd should get up to date on his security.

EDIT; Holy crap, this is actually legitimate! I did PM him last night about a "gang rep" as you can see in the second picture. This guy did it, lol.

Legitimate pictures to say the least, although the hacker did not message me.

And how would he know that is where the exact place is for Reported posts?

I've seen it on a staff members TV before. ?

Staff please leave this thread. Part of a deal with him to get JD his accounts back. This is something we can't really hide anyways.

These things happen. It's unfortunate but it does. At some level JD's account was stolen. As OP stated...I noticed almost immediately. No harm was done and OP really didn't have time to do anything. I don't think he made even one staff action.

But I'm more concerned about JD than HF right now. I'm helping him secure everything.

I'm a bit pissed though that Omniscient cares more about an account holder than his entire website. I would to have control over his account though. The fact of the matter is, if you didn't change the email your HF account is linked to since the last DB leak, this could happen to you.

Not that I can't be hacked but I have layers of safety measures and deep security. Even if someone did manage to compromise a layer I can quickly regain it. I personally know the people who work at the companies I would need to recover everything. It's like trying to claim a kid is yours in front of their parents and grandparents. I'd make a call and get it all back. I keep a lot of things offline and hidden too. Heck I even have backups outside of my house just in case I have a fire or some other catastrophe.

Possible, but 99% unlikely unless the VPN has logs and the hst shared information.

Or if they had bad encryption.

Personally I wasn't expecting anything. Lastnight while creating a thread I a link to Judge Dredd's profile & noticed that his PM's were disabled. I didn't think much of it because it's listed him as a reputation abuse Admin. I just thought that you would use the reputation abuse section.

At least Omni secured the site as well as Dredd's account. Since I'm a couple months old on HF, Dredd is such a friendly admin and I wouldn't want him leaving.

I'm just glad everything is back to being the same HF.

You can rule it out. If OP has another account and is smart enough to take JD's account, he's also smart enough to get on a proxy or a VPN when he logged onto JD and his new account. Since he's not on his actual IP address, they're not going to find out who he is.

It's possible this could be a troll though, fuck it I'll accept any out come.

An administrator now getting hacked after years of this website being up is HIGH UNLIKELY. Omniscient saying he's negotiating with him I also don't believe. How about this, REMOVE JUDGE DREDD'S ACCOUNT! That would happen if this was real. Shit they reset their reputation just to prove a point.

I'm done confusing myself, I'm convinced this is a troll. They could easily remove Judge Dredd's account and add another account for Judge Dredd and let it duplicate his current one.

P.S. That bullshit saying "I don't want to get in trouble" is moronic. You hacked into an administrators account off of the biggest myBB website in the WORLD. I would never give it back and raise hell. That's how I know this is a troll ?. Have a nice day.

Well, It does feel bad to get rep without deserving it. If I get a negative rep for a valid reason, I would not care as much.

I wouldn't PM asking to remove it, though. I would only revenge rep.

Not really, all omni's plugins he writes are vulnerable.

XSS in his canonical plugin, SQLI in his h4x plugin. I'm pretty sure Hackforum has even been hacked due to these vuln plugins before.

Maybe, Omniscient knows better than us about his site, plugins.

gosh,

it was a joke -.-

I didn't said he got my password. (even that if he had JD's account he probably could get it) also, I think Omni should innercase the security of mods, staffs and admins accounts.

How ? IP or even mac address checker. (simple vb .net tool that will let them access the user through there.

bckc - October 14, 2011, 8:13 am

Nice work OP. I'm surprised you aren't banned for hacking an admin account though.

I'm guessing your an actual HF member but this is a spare account hidden behind a VPN?

How did you do it? I'd be surprised if you managed to infect Judge Dredd, he seems like a pretty smart guy.

Omni should give you the BlackHat award rather than ban you, I think this is the first time an admin has been hacked on HF.

Most people are vulnerable to being hacked, it's more than likely everyone who's posted thus far is. It all depends on the experience and dedication of the hacker.

some people think that op is a hacking god
some people think that op is a skid some people like that JD got hacked some people think its wrong that JD got hacked some peoople think that JD should not be staff now some people think that he is a good staff member and should stay.

so if you don't read the 300 post in this thread that's were were at right now.

A general consensus is close i think!

This doesn't impress me at all. What it takes is quite a lot of Social Engineering then a FUD RAT/Keylogger. If he hacked the control panel and ACP - I would be more impressed because it would take more skill.

Hacking a person isn't hard. Web hacking is harder and will always be. Why do you think all the security managers are mostly working on servers and on the internet?

Quote: This will teach JD to secure his account more, and were all lucky this awesome guy found some vulnerability before some asshole did and fucked up the whole forum. If he really wanted to make shit happen, he could have.

Don't be so sure he was innocent. He did try to gain admincp. He spent 3 weeks to get JD's account. He didn't do that for lulz I'm sure. IMHO we were lucky enough that my security measures worked quickly. His plan was to do a dump. That's not a harmless action.

Quote:Yes I was compromised, these things are bound to happen. I'm very thankful the OP was kind enough to give my accounts back.
I agree that was nice of him.

And some of you are morons. I know how he did this. Didn't take a genius. Took audacity and a mistake by JD in his security. I don't want method expose as it might put other staff at risk but I've discussed with staff to take precautions. I personally don't have this security hole even though it was attempted.

Quote:LOL , guys look at the amount of total PM's .
He has more than me. Didn't realize he was that busy in PMs.

Quote:Obviously Dredd should not be an administrator, if he is so irresponsible to get his account haxed.
He's still 100x more trustworthy than everyone else here. I'll take trust over ability any day of the week. You can learn easily but trust is hard to gain.

Quote:HF dosent feel like safe anymore.
What iv heard of is that many of the staff have got hacked recently.

Staff and Admins are targets along with the HF site itself. As a target that's constantly bombed a few explosions are bound to happen. We deal with them swiftly. If you're afraid of being here then leave. No one is stopping you. If you stay then be smart. Basically trust no one.

Quote:Fucking lol'd, you should have purged the whole database just before a backup.
They can't. Security measures are in place.

Quote:Not really, all omni's plugins he writes are vulnerable.
I've written dozens of plugins. A couple did have vulns but all current plugins are secured without any publicly known vulns. If a 0day existed someone would have used it by now. I write my plugins with very tight security now. Very very tight. Oh and enjoy your ban (again).

I think this thread has reached it's end. Thanks everyone.
