Overall : 5/5

(well all of that is MY opinion)

Miman Renai maybe isn't as popular as other seinen manga like Gantz, K-On, etc but this manga has good points that make you want to read this.

The first point is the character, the main character, Kurose, is an H-Games Programmer and he is 29 years old while the main heroine is a 13 years old middle school girl. The man has an extremely curly hair and always wears glasses and a hat and the girl is your usual kawaii girl (as you can see in the picture). The remarkable traits of the characters and the far difference of age make the story more interesting

Second point which is the main thing that makes this manga worth to read is the story. In this manga you can see the pure relation between 2 persons with distinct differences. How Kurose who works in eroge company never think of something perverted and always do things awkwardly around her but very kind to Tomoe-chan while Tomoe-chan herself is cute, very innocent, always think positively, and depends on Kurose in many things.

Some of you may call this Lolicon (well the main heroin is loli XD) but i don't really think so, because the story itself is very pure (you will know when you read this).

Well, in conclusion this manga serves you with a very unique romance story with a large age gap without ecchi but is very nice and adorable. It's hard to find a seinen manga with age gap without lolic-ecchi (or shota) this day and this manga is recommended for you who try to find something kawaii.

My thoughts--

It a short and sweet manga series that had me laughing at the awkward moments and having me cry tears of joy at the innocent romance. Not much manga has actually had me tear up a little and I have never read a manga with such a huge difference of age and yet keeping the story line clean. The ending is a little rushed but it is done excellently. Bakabt has a good torrent which also has a doujinshi summer story which I am about to read.
