Thread: how do i stop freezing up talking to girls?{help please} xMadnez - October 26, 2011, 4:19 am

hey,

so basically i was talking to 2 girls with my friend on chat and it was good we were just flirting and messing about, anywayz later that night on skype my friends called me up into a group call with a different girl and i said hey, she did but then it just went awkward :/ and i like freeze up, and then they started talking and well i just didnt speak cause i was so nervous, so they kicked me from the convo , i dont blame them it just made the convo laggy, so how do i overcome this i feel really irritated that i cant just talk to girls face to face or voice to voice AHH frustrating

anyway any help would be greatfull

THANKS

P.S trolls FUCK OFF

There's is no tutorial on overcoming shyness, It rest on your shoulders buddy, But sometimes, appearance can help confidence, Buy a suit to talk to girls, lol

You just really need to build your confidence up. And also just stop thinking about people judging you. But not to a point where your like one of those weird kids or anything. Just trust me it will happen you just got to get use to it.

If your 13.... by a small suit, lol, alright, This is how i get by, "I see everything from a first person perspective and can't see through the eyes of others, for all i know, this could be a dream, a scripted movie that im ment to act in, this world revolves around me, nothing i can do can kill me, hurt me maybe, but not kill me, I am god" think that everyday and you shouldn't have a problem... cept im me and... Im a God of this dream xD strange thing to post this on hackforums but u need to see girls as a tool u will use her to bake ur food later.

so next time ask her how she is called so u can shout her name that the dinner is not ready.

Ask her age because if she aint 18 u can't post her naked photo's later.

Most important Ask her if she wants to dinner with u maby cook together!
Cuz if she can't cook shes not a girl!

Dude, it's the internet. There's no reason to be shy on the internet. Just talk like you normally would.

Its all about the confidence my friend. It's all in your head. Just keep talking to girls and you will eventually stop freezing up.
