Thread: \(2011\) Norton vs Kaspersky vs Bit defender vs Avast vs Avira \(The Best only\)

B_r001access - October 30, 2011, 2:22 am

Well, Let Talk a Little about the Best antivirus we got , This year, as we all Know, when I am talking about the best Antivirus, i means good for removing all Kind of virus,

So the Best, as Far as i know are, :

- 1 Norton
- 2 Bit defender
- 3 Kaspersky
- 4Avast
- 5 Avira These are the top five as long as i know In detected, And removing virus,

Give your Opinion about it,

Sulerk - October 30, 2011, 2:24 am

Man none of them anti avira is the best !

rudypiorun - October 30, 2011, 2:34 am

Kaspersky is the best !!? Next Avast and Avira.!!

+Pirate - October 30, 2011, 2:36 am

Should probably post it Here for more of an audience.

Avira is good for detected but is noob in removing dude, during antivirus competition this year, avira did not even make it to the top 5

I go with AVG. :) It was the one who saved my ass when all my EXEs got infected by Tanatos so I'm sticking with it as a way of saying thanks.

Slap MBAM up in that top 5 buddy. :)

Blackllama - October 31, 2011, 8:19 pm

I like kaspersky, that's what I've been using for a while.

My person preference as far as my own computers go would be Norton, yes it can take up some space but I like the security of it.

Avast, Bit defender and Avira are both pretty good, I have used them both at sometime and they get the job done. I have never played with Kaspersky. I think its just personal preference as to what you use, as long as it does its job.

Kaspersky is obviously the best AV actually.

None of the others can even compare to the software.

/truth

I personally like ESET Nod and Kaspersky.

village_idiot - November 1, 2011, 5:51 am

Don't use an AV, but Dr. Web is my choice.

my favorite av is avira premium security i use it long time ago and never have problems.

este smart security also great av my friend use it :)

and is normal to see many diferrent opinions about who is good av because the difference between configuration computers, OS ...

sorry about my bad english

Adzter790 - November 3, 2011, 2:10 pm

None of them are any good without common sense

Brosa - November 3, 2011, 3:40 pm

Ok you obviously don't know anything about top antivirus' if you firstly put norton in there and didn't include NOD32 I recommend revising your list and maybe use norton and see how many false positives you get...

Bind9 - November 5, 2011, 3:16 pm

Kaspersky THE BEST !!!! :-) I love IT

70k - November 5, 2011, 9:23 pm

Kaspersky is the best antivirus, i had the best experience with it, it may slow your computer sometimes but it's for your safety.

00australia00 - November 6, 2011, 2:42 am

ESET always best
i dont use kaspersky anymore

AbleDelta - November 6, 2011, 8:50 am

Kaspersky All The Way, saves me from the bad things on the web.

kanekewl - November 6, 2011, 11:51 am

One you dont download Norton because its the biggest peace of crap on the internet next to Windows M.E. Second go with AVG and ESET. They are the best anti-virus programs out there.

I agree that ESET is one of the best kinds, but seriously? AVG? Wrong AV to recommend mate.
