It is very easy to spot generated from hand made graffiti.
Hand made is much more unique, if you are a pro at it.
But this is a good way to start.

Very nice found dude. Good job.

Dubste? - September 10, 2010, 1:15 pm

Once you start doing real graffiti you will see how bad the designs actually are. This is good but only for your first ever try, after that I would recommend downloading some Graffiti fonts and making a photoshop file to play around with the fill. This is a decent starting point, but you should move away from this quickly :)

Fricetix - September 19, 2010, 2:20 am

Consulting Detective - October 8, 2011, 3:05 pm

That site is nice, but sometimes its better to have your own style. Originality is very important.

Still, thanks for the share.

DefectiveProduct - October 8, 2011, 5:21 pm

I guess it's a fun site to play with, but in all honesty, anyone who does actual graffiti by hand drawing and just cranking out book after book filled with tags, pieces and bombs can spot this from a mile away. Also, hand developed stuff is much better, it has it's own style and unique touch to it.

Not trying to hate, but if you're gonna use this site.. I wouldn't recommend running around posting it and saying you made it.

Detric5 - October 8, 2011, 5:22 pm

holy shit this shit is awsom i want it

Bad Meets Evil - October 9, 2011, 8:46 pm
