Thread: Buying a .com domain. Please suggest me a registrar

hav0c - November 6, 2011, 6:27 pm

I want to buy a .com domain for a period of 3 years.

It will be used for my School's alumni association. So, I don't want to get into trouble buying it using carding or other illegal methods.

Can you suggest me a trusted and cheap registrar?

Thanks a lot in advance.

Combined with coupon usage (you can find codes everywhere), GoDaddy will be the cheapest registrar where you can register your domain for a period of 3 years. ?

Off Topic, if it's for a school, shouldn't it be a .org domain?

godaddy or namecheap.com are probably the cheapest

I'd recommend www.itenpower.com that's what I use.

www.name.com

Is really good with competitive prices.

I wouldn't listen to this guy above, he is a known retarded script kiddie. Famous for being an annoying little kid on xbox live and runescape, he cannot hack/code or anything. ?
