You can just send them a private message, there is no need for a thread. It will just get full of useless opinions and comments.

Maybe you leeches the booter? Just by looking at youre rep.

And I wonder how you got a sig when non upgraded members cant use image sigs.

To start with, you posted in the wrong section, you should have posted this in the free giveaways section of the marketplace. If you do not have positive rep, you do not post, simple. That's why your posting abilities were removed.

You were warned for by-passing the char limit. The limit is there for a reason, don't bypass it by adding junk. If you can't find things to say, don't bother posting.
