Not bad man :) Seems a bit unfinished though. You should add more controls to the theme.

I only add a few controls to Free Themes, Themes i sell will always have full controls.. But that's the reason why i have not added anything else lol

And thanks for the nice comment :)

I am updating this at the moment with more controls for a paid version.

Very nice theme, thanks for sharing it with us bro.

I have one question for anyone that knows something more about themes. The transparency... That never works with me. I just installed Visual Studio on my virtual machine because it didn't work on here and I was hoping it would work, but it doesn't. That ugly fuchsia color is seen o.o" Ugly... I'm using XP SP3.

Does anyone know how to fix that?

Androcir - November 14, 2011, 8:30 am

In sub new() put Transparent = true

Hope that helps ;)

Nope o.o"

Code Sub New()

Transparent = True

TransparencyKey = Color.Fuchsia

End Sub

I'm gonna hurt myself...

MOD3M - November 14, 2011, 12:32 pm

This is a beautiful theme. You should add more controls and sell it.

Use this code for controls such as buttons, then draw corners with BackColor as your color.

Code Sub New()

Transparent = True

BackColor = Color.Transparent

End Sub

Use this code for the main container/theme. Draw corners with TransparencyKey as your color.

Code Sub New()

TransparencyKey = Color.Fuchsia

End Sub()

Really easy! If you are still confused about setting better corners,
PM me and I will do my best to help.
