I have a friend called "Doga" He is turkish and always wants to give me gay love. What should I do?

NXXX - November 23, 2011, 3:05 pm

You should totally let him, or his donner knife is going straight up your ass. (:

your not the only one.. its harder for boys to get over girls than vice versa, well the ones that have discovered the real meaning of love.. PM me a little more with detail if you like, so I can give more accurate answers :)

Girl I been flirtin' with texts me 'bout a presentation she was doing, she's like: "I was so nervous I could've puked :p".

What do I reply? "If you would've, you would at least something interesting to talk about". I have no fucking idea what made me fucking write that shit and send it, but now I'm being ignored and I'll have to make up tomorrow or summin'.

Just felt like sharin' my freakin' genius.

Im sure you know that that wasnt the best thing to text back to, just say sorry to her and say you wasnt in the mood because you had an argument with your parent. :)

Two people I know have died and the funerals are on the same day at the same time... How can I sort this out with out offending anyone?

Warbiest - November 23, 2011, 3:31 pm

You won't be offending either of them. They are dead, remember?
