Thread: how do you make a gpt site?

rollendough - November 29, 2011, 4:32 pm

I always wonder how you create your own gpt site like paidthefastest and like prizerebel and all these reward sites,

So first, getting a template right? like from seraphsdesigns

then contacting CPA survey sites to allow surveys on your site?

Does anyone have a down pack tutorial on this?

Yeah I do. I am not really willing to give it out to everyone but mainly just buy a script from shiftcode. You have to be willing to invest in order to start a GPT site.

Sums it up well. Since you'll have to be investing a good amount to begin with ($100's easily), I'd recommend against trying to cut corners. Sites like PTF use ShiftCode and a heavily customized theme and they obviously are making a good profit. Definitely try joining some CPA sites, though the majority that I've used normally don't have many offers that allow incentives, so see what other GPT sites are running and search for those specific offers - you should find some nice sites to earn from.

Got a custom coded one ready to launch in a bit - looking for a partner so if you're interested PM me.
