day one after sale with no installs. early days yet but after reading the many scam report things i am starting to worry a little :S

iubitu - December 9, 2011, 7:58 am

Don't wait for anything guys, as I already paid him 15$ for spreading service more than one month ago and without result for sure. He always find an excuse like he has been banned, your server isn't working, ect.... I asked for a refund severals days ago and now he doesn't answer to any of my PM. Will post a scammed report soon, everyone should do the same.

I will do it, I just need to take time for it. It takes more time to make a report than to be scammed.
