Thread: What do you think of my .NET theme?

The Elite Noob - December 6, 2011, 2:32 pm

Hi, i recently found out about themebase, by Aeonhack, and decided to build a custom theme on top of it, so far, I have about 6 controls done in the past day, and am currently working on a textbox + a progressbar.

The main purpose is just to see if people like it or if anyone has some advice for me for the theme, code or appearance.

The theme Currently has:Main Skin

Button

Label

Label With Border

Custom Close Control (Drag Drop Only, No Code)

Custom Minimize Control (Drag Drop Only, No Code)

Custom Maximize/Normalize Control (Drag Drop Only, No Code)

Here are a few pictures: advice is appreciated ? ?

Main skin Normal:

With the Button Hovered on (Button Pressed is just a bit Darker):

With the Highlights for Custom Controls:

Leave your thoughts, comments, ideas and advice please!

dear staff, please move to .net forum please and thank you!

No comments :(

awhile, hope people will see it when i release final copy :)

also, sorry for double post.

Oh wow, that looks pretty good. I'm surprised no one else has commented on it yet.

atotheh - December 7, 2011, 4:06 pm

Really have no advice, seems perfect tbh :P

Rona™ - December 7, 2011, 4:07 pm

Very nice looking! Very smooth and pleasing to the eye! Nice work!

Tedd - December 7, 2011, 4:07 pm

Looks great man. Only point of suggestion: Don't use drawstring for the control buttons. Actually draw it using G.DrawLine. It makes it look a lot better.

Penthos - December 7, 2011, 4:10 pm

Looks good man, Simple but effective. And above all it looks like your own work, which is an added bonus!

Hope to see more work from you, Keep at it bro and good luck on the final version.

Welcome to the Theme world :)

awsome theme, something different here. those min/max/Close buttons are awesome, and the theme is smoth, keep on it!

Coleak - December 7, 2011, 4:28 pm

Doesnt look half bad, but it needs more objects for sure.

yea, thanks, working on those right now :) mainly a progress bar having a bit of difficulty with text-box, but getting there :)

also thanks for all the support :)

can you explain this a bit more please?

ALPINE - December 7, 2011, 7:31 pm

looks pretty good. try making the close button have a little darker red though. it kind of looks overpowering in it;s current state.

Martial - December 7, 2011, 7:39 pm

Woah that looks really good, I like the exit, minimize, and maximize buttons <3 agreed, I see too many X's draw using the default font, but drawstring using the Webdings font looks ALOT better

This really is looking nice! How you people can do this! :-)

Hagbard1337 - April 13, 2012, 1:26 am

I like it, but you should make more objects and I think in the minimize button a "_" would be better than "-".

Pumpkins - April 13, 2012, 1:34 am

Looks good man keep it up

zosoftnet - April 13, 2012, 4:05 am

The theme is looking amazing! I really love it...Just love the color theme!!

Keep it up!

Meerkat.? - April 13, 2012, 5:44 am

I think it looks very good, very clean! I like the red highlight a lot, the green one, meh.

Also, why are you using text in the close button (and maximize button)? Just change the font to Marlett and use "r" for an X, "1" for a maximize button, etc...

jerrojack - April 13, 2012, 5:47 am

Look good,work on the black a bit,work on it a little

Penthos - April 13, 2012, 6:26 am

Nice grave dig everyone .. Dose no one bother to check the dates anymore???

Hu1u - April 15, 2012, 10:27 pm wow man looks sweet clean and pro i love the rollover image work to zosoftnet - April 16, 2012, 12:55 am

It's a nice one! Lovely theme it really is!

Keep it up!

: -)

PoRt21 - April 16, 2012, 12:21 pm

it's not bad bro,,keep it up nice one
