Imao, fail on them.

I'm sure they have tons of money to pay these guys out :D

malapica - December 7, 2011, 11:39 am hahaha... I love those guys!

"Heavy artillery..." ...LoL!!!

Zokrin - December 7, 2011, 11:40 am

They will probably be sued for this but oh well. At least no one was hurt in this accident.

Mellisico - December 7, 2011, 12:52 pm

I doubt they will be sued, they were working within the bomb range. But I'm sure that they will pay for the damages.

The producers behind this show have a lot of money.

Nothing to worry about.

So Do I! But the reporter said that the show has been put on hold! ?

Videogamer555 - December 7, 2011, 3:02 pm

I think the episode already aired and the accident happened while the show was being broadcast live, right?

And NOW you know why they needed to make their safety wall EVEN THICKER! And also you now know why they always say "don't try this at home". Imagine some kid making a cannon and shooting a hole through his neighbor's house (and 10 consecutive houses after that one an the next couple blocks).

MythBusters Fail.

The People of Dublin only have God to thank.?

Dope Dreams - December 7, 2011, 6:35 pm haha Thats mad funny I bet he's like fuck, there goes more money.

azn56 - December 7, 2011, 6:40 pm

I don't think they will finish this myth unfortunately. :(Also, i wonder who can sleep when a cannon ball goes through your bedroom, but wakes up when the sheet-rock settles.
