Thread: Ardamax Keylogger 3.0 ERROR

embryD - December 8, 2009, 6:54 am

I'm new to all this and just joined so sorry in advance if I say/do something stupid.?

I've been trying for ages to get Ardamax to work but this error appears when I try to do the 'Remote Installation':

'Unable to create installation package. Try to disable your antivirus. The system cannot find the file specified'

I have made sure I disabled all my AVs, I actually uninstalled them to get this to work. I've tried everything and I know I'm missing out on something. Also NOD32 was a real pain to uninstall.

I tried searching the net, I can't find anyway to really fix this so if anyone can help me please comment or email me at:

embryonic.death@hotmail.com

Here's a screenshot of the error:

You probably have another antivirus running in the background, or you don't have the right NET Framework.

Missing NET framework or AV issues or admin escalation required. Try installing vmware and running it from there. Should work ! Dont download and try random exe files on home pc
