Nice job!

Wow, I'm extremely impressed, I wouldn't have even thought of the file upload, :P.

Good job!

It's a persistent XSS which I used by uploading files with XSS syntaxes in them. (Yay mac for not filtering < and >)

It got me 1764705 points on RankMyHack which ed me to rank 13 on my first XSS report on the site and put me on the #1 rank for top hack.

Congratulations- I saw this trick before on file sharing sites but its cool to see it has more widely reaching implications especially on sites of that caliber! Congrats too on getting the number 1 hack on RMH!

Thats an awesome hack. please throw some light on the same.

HaxOr? - December 22, 2011, 11:22 am

This was discovered on MediaFire too.
Nothing new really.

Yeah that's how I got the idea too. It almost worked on mediafire as well until it filtered the <! and >.

YOU LEECHER, YOU DIDN'T DISCOVERED THIS SHIT.

IT IS ORIGINALLY DISCOVERED BY "CyanXSS"

sangar66 - December 22, 2011, 6:27 pm

Calm down, caps are not good... I don't know if they leeches, I personally haven't seen CyanXss's post, and you have no way of knowing who found it first....
Members like this are those who hurt HF's reputation....

How did you find that name? I thought I removed that from there. By the way I used to use the name CyanXSS. This is proof:

[img]<http://i.minus.com/isbuLCIguLO30.png>[/img]

Only reason why there is no @CyanXSS account is because I renamed it to the @ring0xss account.

If you still don't believe me...

Nice one, when I noticed this I had to double check the legitimacy of it :P... Congrats on top hack, try and go for 1st place leaderboard now ;)

P.S not sure if you'd count 27days a grave-dig but lol w.e :3

It's fine. More publicity for me :)

BradRDAnews420 - January 22, 2012, 3:07 pm

lol :) Congrats once again about the hack :)

Oh really? I just checked and none of those links seems to match mine even in the slightest bit. Also all of those XSS'es are non-persistent unlike mine.
