Thread: Cryptography, Encryption, and Decryption Section. Needs Changing.[\[READ\]](#)

d4rkj4y - December 24, 2011, 6:18 pm

I am studying Cryptography and I would like to make use of this section, however... There are pages upon pages of threads for "FREE CRYPTERS", which all the leeching skids go in that section for.

My suggestion is that a sub-forum for free crypters is created, so people like me can use the section for what it is truly meant to be used for, which is "For discussion on keys, ciphers, and algorithms often used to keep information secret. Encryption is the art of concealing data and code."

It is a catastrophe, the stickys there are for SELLING CRYPTERS, not for tutorials on cryptography! I'd really like to learn from other members on cryptography, but not in the state it is in now.

Cryptography is becoming increasingly important as governments and organisations look to track and steal information from users, without this section being changed we risk missing out on knowledge and skills on critical aspects of information management, data integrity, protection and anonymity.

Thank you.

NOTE: This is an old thread, I realise that. But the section, one year later, is EXACTLY THE SAME, something NEEDS to be done.

There is growing support for this, cryptography IS NOT ALL about crypters, and even if it was, there are no real tutorials on crypters in that section, only crypting services and free crypters galore, it is a huge mess.

?rtificial - December 24, 2011, 6:20 pm

I support this. When I first went to check out that part of the forums, I thought it was going to have threads on crypters and how to create them, but all I found was threads on free crypters, which are nice, but it would be nice to learn about them too.

Thanks, it really does need changed :(
Anyone else with me? Please post below!

TheRock101 - December 24, 2011, 6:39 pm

Is'nt that what the coding section is for ???

The coding section doesn't really specialize in crypters.

Text - December 24, 2011, 6:45 pm

You have my full support brother. This needs to happen.

Edit: 600th post!

If it doesn't happen I will find elsewhere, where I can do this...

Any ideas?

Cida - December 25, 2011, 4:28 am

Couldn't agree more. Every once in a while I take a look at the section in hope that things have changed. I always leave disappointed.

It would be nice to see some threads that are actually about cryptography.

Silicon - December 25, 2011, 4:34 am

Initially I thought I had misunderstood the purpose of the section. I wanted to know how people develop ciphers. Turns out it's just all about crypters that use some terrible XOR encryption or RC4.

YES, and that's why we need to learn as a community different ways of encryption! All the junk skid free crypting needs to be put in a sub-section for the cryptography section to be educational, and the stickys put into the subsection and replaced with informative tutorials :)

Slash - December 25, 2011, 5:02 am

This is very much true. The mess needs to be cleaned up.

Thanks, I just hope staff read this thread to get an idea :)

NeuTroNks - December 25, 2011, 5:14 am

Yeah i agree with you that s right :P LOL

3uro - December 25, 2011, 5:41 am

I also agree , That place is filled up with crap. But there aren't allot of people here that understand the 'art' of cryptography .

Snoopy - December 25, 2011, 5:48 am

Even the crypters are useless. They are all shitcash or fileice and noobs register to make money. Theres no point in them anymore, totally defines "sharing".

TickTockMan - December 25, 2011, 5:57 am

I agree. The Cryptography section really needs some cleaning up.

d4rkj4y - December 25, 2011, 2:13 pm

It's good to see people with the same opinion as me, this will hopefully get things changed with the section.

knives61 - December 25, 2011, 4:51 pm

dat section dont need no changin it god on its onw ok??

Are you actually being serious or are you trolling, if you are trolling you are quiet stupid...

Stenography - December 25, 2011, 11:10 pm

I'm with you mate !

Omniscient has to seperate between free crypters for rep and Cryptography.

Sithis - December 26, 2011, 6:46 am

I support this idea. Section lost it's true meaning of existence.

d4rkj4y - November 22, 2012, 9:35 pm

It has been one year since I posted this suggestion, (nearly one year).

Every single day, I wake-up and check this suggestion page, to find it inactive with cobwebs all over the page. (jokes)

Yet, Cryptography, Encryption, and Decryption Section still remains the LQ same, with skids and the like only using that section for selling their crappy crypter tools.

One solution to the issue could be to place all crypter related services in a sub-section, so that education on the subject can move freely in the main section.

Sorry for this gravedig, but I really support this.

BUMPING THIS, needs to be seen :)

This has been suggested before but It went dead just like this one did. Is my signature what you want in the section?

Hmm yeah kind of, I'll have a look, looks interesting, well done on writing it.

Coelho - November 23, 2012, 12:22 am

I agree with this.

Cryptography is very important, and the current section does not reflect at all what it is described as.

h-boy - November 23, 2012, 12:22 am

I suggested something similar before however the thread was completely ignored.

b a e - November 23, 2012, 12:28 am

I fully support this. That section is a fucking hell hole.

Swirl - November 23, 2012, 6:45 pm

The old thread like this got up to like 4 pages before it died.

Okay.

Why hasn't this been seen yet? It's been in suggestions for over a year now lol redpois0n - November 24, 2012, 2:48 am

I support this idea, I would be active there if it wasnt full of shit

Terry A. Davis - November 24, 2012, 2:51 am

%110 support here, I agree. I am sick of people just going there for crypters zerocool - November 24, 2012, 2:54 am

This is a great idea , totally support this 100% ?

Storm Shadow - November 24, 2012, 2:59 am

I agree.

This section needs some cleanup and administration.

Take Care

?NoShame - November 24, 2012, 3:21 am

Man this is a really good idea, i support this.. pls post it also in the cryptography section

redpois0n - November 24, 2012, 10:27 am

I would be really happy actually if this happened. A good section full of shit so I cant spot the "regular" threads

Greyersting - November 24, 2012, 10:52 am

I don't care about crypters (or creating them). I want to learn about cryptography. I support.

adampelletgun - November 24, 2012, 10:54 am

If this was to happen the Cryptography would totally become inactive.

No, I dont think so, people would still be discussing crypters along with cryptography, but it would be more clean

SoulByte - November 24, 2012, 11:25 am

Change the description or the content of the section. Currently these two are not related even the slightest bit.

h4kr! - November 24, 2012, 11:53 am see, if someone was giving out a complete source shouldn't it go in it's appt coding board?

(ie. C#,VB.NET,C++, etc)

it seems like the Cryptography... section is meant for how the encryption works and it's creation, not just selling 4shared or fileice links for crypters.

Those threads haven't gotten nearly as much support as this thread, and a staff member/administrator hasn't even looked at the threads :P

Did you even bother reading the thread? ???

The "Cryptography, Encryption, and Decryption Section" is NOT all about crypters, despite what 99% of what Hackforums members think.

Hello world, it's me ing this thread to the top again :D

BottomNotch - November 25, 2012, 4:35 am

Agreed on d4rk's suggestion. There is a place for crypters; the market place or if your giving away sources/tutorials, then they can be moved into the programming section.

Nihilo - November 25, 2012, 4:40 am

Although I'm not personally into Cryptography everything you have said makes perfect sense, so I totally agree with your suggestion.

Cuddle - November 25, 2012, 5:12 am

I agree.

I'm interested in cryptography, and would find that section interesting.

Cyber-Security - November 25, 2012, 5:58 am

I agree, I was trying to teach people cryptography and my thread got buried to the 10 page in no time.

DeathBolt - November 25, 2012, 11:16 am

I heavily support this,I've wanted to learn about cryptography but could not find any tuts on here D:
It's a shitstorm in that section right now :[

Mr. Furioz - November 25, 2012, 11:28 am totally agreed , i wanna learn more about it but mostly i see is free crypter downloads with sharecash etc.. only a few good tutorials.

Linux. - November 25, 2012, 11:37 am

I took a Stanford class on Cryptography, and would love for this to happen. You have my full support.

TechApp - November 25, 2012, 11:46 am

I love this idea. I made a really good tutorial on CISSP and only a couple people looked at it. I spent a lot of time on it, and got little thanks for it, that's why I never continued it. I agree with this suggestion 100%.

SudoFox - November 25, 2012, 11:50 am

I completely support this suggestion. It seems to be a necessary thing to do at this point. The section has come down to nothing more than request for free crypting, I believe this was not the original intention of the section. People that want to learn about cryptography have no place to follow their ambitions, this simple change would allow them to do so.

I fully %100 support this idea. Too many damn crypter threads. CRYPTER SUBSECTION 2012!!!

Detroit Tigers - November 25, 2012, 6:46 pm

100% Agree on this idea! It should take effect soon, It would clear up alot of space and open room for more important things than free crypters! :)

TheDubWubCub - November 25, 2012, 7:05 pm

I too agree that it should be sorted out between actual cryptography & crypter spam stuff! PLEASE LET THIS HAPPEN!

d4rkj4y - November 26, 2012, 12:47 am

Time to get this thread to the top again,

Please omni (any other mentor/staff member), I am begging you to check this :)
