SCAMM

Of course I wanted you to pay dipshit. Just because you don't have a taste in graphic design doesn't mean you remove me from skype and run away from the decency of paying somebody who worked on a banner for you.

Wanting payment for work is not a "SCAMM".

Is it not kind of stupid to charge a webdesign per page? Because after you've done a page you wouldn't just copy/paste the header/nav/footer part and throw an UI kit in? I would charge depending on the amount of work, not on the amount of pages.. Not meaning to be harsh, just throwing it out there.

We do not copy/paste and "throw in a UI kit". Each page can have a different layout and the cost of making the navigation bar/header is factored in to that you order multiple pages for a full website.

I am retracting my previous vouch from Prism who is a part of the Infinity Design team, I never received the finished work I've paid for it has been over 8 days. Here is the link for the scam report.

However, I have confidence that the other Infinity Design gfx artists are much easier to deal with and you will not experience problems with them.

Vouch for Bad Meets Evil! Made me some amazing GFX!

Talked to him through Skype whilst he was doing it. Also he has excellent prices!

Thanks!

I'm interested, going to PM you now :)

Bad Meets Evil - February 23, 2013, 12:05 am

Due to a very busy schedule I can't be doing requests anymore because I just get too many of them. Expect new things coming out when I have more time.

Bad Meets Evil - March 9, 2013, 11:46 pm

I've put together a new fancier portfolio. Doesn't contain any forum graphics as I don't see that as the direction I am looking to take this shop.

Bad Meets Evil - March 18, 2013, 9:57 pm

Now open again for a limited time. May also take requests for designs that aren't listed above.

Bad Meets Evil - March 20, 2013, 12:42 pm

Received some inquiries but I am still open for requests.

Bad Meets Evil - April 8, 2013, 6:03 pm

I'm back in business with a new name and services. Hit me up!

Bad Meets Evil - April 10, 2013, 8:40 pm

You didn't recreate it, only made a bad rendition of it. If you want something different then I am going to need some details as to what exactly you want me to change.

haha, I had a feeling you would have something to say about that.

With no real standards among the marketplace or forms of certification this is the closest thing I have to show that I have some experience.

Nothing wrong with having an ignorant opinion, just realize that you do and don't share it.

For the services that I offer, my portfolio shows some great examples.

If you are looking for shitty tacky thread designs which are maybe more "appealing for HF users" then you are right - this isn't the place.

There is a level of professional design here that you will be hard pressed to find elsewhere though.

Second vouch to BME right here. I have done transactions with him in the past before I joined fbn, and he've done an excellent job. The new thread design is looking sick Chris. Nice work.

The time it takes is variable on my workload and the wants of my clients.
As an average though I say it will take 48 hours.

Came into the thread and saw that no one had posted in over 4 months. Wasn't sure if this great designer was gone for good, or wasn't designing anymore. However, I had to take the chance.

That's why I added BME on skype.

After waiting a few days. He added me back. Profusely apologized for the wait and then we got down to business.

He made a signature. Then another and then another. Actually probably a few more than others. A designer that makes sure you are satisfied is great and BME is great.

Don't let chances for great graphical work pass you by.
Get down to business today.
