Hello HF,

Well it's just a simple HWID grabber. I don't see many of these out here. Not to mention the sexy GUI.

The tool was made by me :D.

The source code was from Ilibrary. He made it in front of my eyes :glad:.

And to the theme creator.

My apologies. I didn't realise you replied here, since I rarely come here.

It uses the MachineGuid And BuildGUID components ?.

I never understood the use of this program unless you're making another program which is HWID protected.

Like, there's a million different ways to get an HWID, and so many different ways you can present it that having a program do this is useless.

Yes I know there's no point of this & there are multiple ways to create this. However I created it when I was learned this method. I have no clue why I used a Fileice link though, so please don't ask. I must've been a big noob then. I apologise.

Sorry I cannot see the thread on the forum since I need to register, which I won't. However this is not Leached. I guess it's been Leaked out. I've made this. Proof:

However thanks for showing me how easily it can be leaked ?.

Many thanks.

Jaydeeph ?
