Sure thing.

You should use of of the two messages below (After editing) instead.

Code [pmme=Subject&message=Message][img]https://i.imgur.com/aGS8d.png[/img][[/pmme]

OR

Code [pmme=Subject&message=Message][[/pmme] Click to PM and see

Might make it even better.

Yes, you can be pretty stupid. Because the drive-by being used isn't yours, I said it in a way that most people would find it complimentary that someone had been inspired by their work, instead you're just a complete douche. It's people like you across the world that make it a bad place to live in.

Krewella - January 13, 2012, 12:38 am hust checked the JDB its FUD but its an exact copy of JDB which is similar to 1 which was released by

"_JAVA_".

Buddy, i think....u should atleast give him credits..

thanks mate for verifying this appreciate it....?

Amplify. - January 13, 2012, 12:51 am

It was created with the tool 'iJava' it's most likely what '_Java_' used to create his.

OLOY - January 13, 2012, 1:16 am

@op is a leecher, the original java drive by(in which we are getting here), is created by the user "\_JAVA\_", he worked hard on making this drive-by, he also mentioned that it took him 3 weeks to make it FUD, thats a lot of hours, so i think you should give some credits @op

Amplify. - January 13, 2012, 11:06 am

(Jan 13, 2012 11:30 AM)Shadezz Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) dude.. its not his, he leaked it from ___JAVA___ please read, if you want it, go download it from ___JAVA___'s thread!

Are you thick? It's a TEMPLATE. It's a HTML file that works with drive-by's, you're actually so stupid it's unreal. Learn to read instead of d riding, seriously.

I coded the html file, I created the images, I put them together so they look how they do, you can use a drive-by with the template, but you can use any drive-by, you're so thick its unreal.

Explain how I'm a leecher for coding a HTML page?

OLOY - January 13, 2012, 11:08 am

You still used ___JAVA___'s drive-by without crediting him about it?
