Hello, before I start I would like to take a second and answer a few questions you may be asking.

Why did you make this guide?

This guide was made to hopefully limit the amount of spam/useless posts within The RATs section. There are several nice guides for everything people are often asking. So please post your opinion on this guide and help keep it at the top of this forum.

Aren't there other guides like this?

Yes, but they hidden away in the RATs section and many users have not and will never see them.

How is this an Official Rats Crew thread?

I received permission from Black Shadow, if you have further questions please feel PM me.

Now that, that is out of the way lets get started! The first few guides I will be giving you are other Official Rats Crew Threads. I suggest you read through them and post your opinions so they can be seen by others.

That is all for now. If you would like your guide added please post a link below i will review it and add if it qualifies. Also if you think one of these guides does not belong up here, reply with a valid explanation and i will remove it. And remember to post your opinion of this guide, all suggestions are taken into account when updating!

Do do list -

Quote:- Add a list of people providing rat setup and support through threads

- Add a series section
- Make custom Graphics (Post below if willing)
- Work on organization
- Update weekly
- Add a list of good crypters
- Add a list of resolved common problems.

High Quality post, Keep it up!

Not a big fan of Ratting though.

I'm just bored, spamming the "View new Posts" button :)

Sounds like what I do sometimes.

Also @ everyone reading please reply with your feedback! I have like 40 views and only one person replying!

Good of you to compile all these threads together!

It's now like a one stop shop.

Should help everyone, noobs and pros!

Thanks for doing this :D

Very nice job on this tutorial guide Puissant. Keep it up, and it's sad to see no one posting after they've used it.

Yeah, replys are the only thing that will keep this thread alive.

Thread one has broken picture links, in the how to use + portforwarding section

Vexna - April 26, 2012, 5:56 pm

The RAT's Crew does not exist anymore.
