Thread: any good stealer ? unknown isnt working for me

RamboLife - January 14, 2012, 12:26 pm any1 could recommend a good stealer that is really working ?

i tried syslogger , unknown and both send shitty logs , and no recovery of passwords , thnx for any thoughts.

hi there , the logger i think is working fine except that it mostly misses the " @" sign and the whole mail adress, about the stealer , it just dosent steal for me mate ..

anyway im looking to buy a working stealer , i almost bought the premium versions , just need to be sure the stealer is good, im gonna pm you now.

btw , thnx alot for your contribution and the free public version, its nice of you, especially for the code :]

I am proof it is working. * Make sure you NET Framework is up to date *

Make sure it is the right email address and you have "Set up the Keylogger" in the settings menu of the application please dont be such a skid.

if the .net wasn't updated i couldn't run the program.

the emails are sent as i stated .

i did set up that mark , as stated by the unkown in original post.

STILL NO SUGGESTIONS ?

the unknown said its working but hes not answering for days...

it dosent steal shit

tfx04 - January 17, 2012, 11:16 am

I was about to buy the unknown, but the free version doesn't work for me and I did not received any answer to my questions so ..

Unknown logger works great you only have to crypt it ;)

Can u explain more why it is not working for you?

tested on 2 of my computers , send logs sometimes , but no passwords what so ever ,

if it was really working , the unkown would of answer , the thing is , im willing to pay , but there isnt any working stealer's on HF.
