Thread: Weekly Anime Review

Dr Achtogonapus - January 16, 2012, 9:30 pm

Hey guys. I was wondering if anyone would be interested in me doing a weekly review on an anime of your choice. The way it would work would be you would recommend to me an anime to watch and review a week later. There would have to be an episode limit due to conflicts such as work. I would say 15 or 20 episodes should be doable. Then a week after I have confirmed which anime I would be reviewing, I would post a review in a new thread. Also at the end of each month(or every four weeks to make it easier) I would re post the review with other material added of the anime I found to be the best of the four. Interest in this thread will determine if I do it or not.

A really good anime would be Angel Beats IMO.

As long as the reviews aren't half arsed and remain consistent then i think this is a good idea. Though if people vote for a series then that means that the series that wins will have already been watched by everyone which in extension means that the review wont work that well because everyone has already seen it. Its better to write reviews for anime that hasn't been watched by everyone in AA so they can watch it after reading the review.

I can design your thread, just pm me if you want me to.

I'd love a review of Angel Beats like suggested<3

One thing everyone will have to keep in mind is that these reviews will be based on my opinion. You may take my review, watch an anime expecting to be amazing and have it turn out to not be in your taste. I won't take responsibilities for people not liking an anime I reviewed and getting mad at me. Please try to refrain from these emotions.

Tasemu - January 16, 2012, 9:58 pm

I dont think anyone here would be that kind of person. If you make a review then no1 should get pissed just because it wasnt to their taste. ^^

It happened to me -.-

Twice.

And then a third time from one of the same people because they forgot they already told me their opinion. Then again, both of those guys hardly ever say anything positive on here, so you will know them if you see them.

OT: go for it, you just gotta find a way to weed out the lesser known animes.

Marshmellow - January 17, 2012, 6:08 am

Shouldn't be too hard to find less known animes. The hard part is to find less known animes that are actually any good.

Either that, or new animes.

I would love to see a fellow member reviewing various anime series. ^^

I agree with that, but there is this one anime called Midori no Hibi which isn't really known nor talked about around here.

In my opinion, it's a great romance anime and I recommend it. xD

Marshmellow - January 17, 2012, 1:02 pm

Yeah, I haven't even heard of that.

This idea would be quite sweet if it gave us new animes like that.

Personally, I lack motivation to find them, or even watch them, so I'm useless like that.

I'm always open for recommendations, though I tend only to watch those that give me a good first impression. I.e. judging an anime by it's cover.

Dr Achtogonapus - January 17, 2012, 1:02 pm

Ok. For a test run of this I will review Angel Beats first. So a week from today I will have a review up in a new thread. This should be an easy review for me considering I have already seen it on an entertainment stand point and can now take a more serious approach to it.

Marshmellow - January 17, 2012, 1:03 pm

But that would defeat the purpose of it all!

Angel Beats is so far from unknown, I probably wouldn't even bother to read it TBH.

I do the same. I don't really watch an anime that doesn't give me a good first impression when I look it up.

I wouldn't want to waste my time downloading/streaming episodes to find out that it sucks. =P

Dr Achtogonapus - January 17, 2012, 6:39 pm

Alright so scratch Angel Beats. I'll do the other one.
And by the other one I mean Midori no Hibi.

Thanks for considering my suggestion. :D

I would love to read your opinions and views on that series.

Marshmellow - January 18, 2012, 12:37 am

Yeah, and if you're reviewing it, can you recommend it to people who enjoyed a certain anime?

Like Quote:"If you enjoyed example 1, example 2, example 3, and example 4, you will probably enjoy this as well!"

Like

I'll try my best on that one. If all else fails I may have to cheat a little and see what MyAnimeList would recommend to go with it. I honestly just haven't seen all that much anime to be quite honest, but this is a good way for me to also expand my list of completed animes.
