Are you an Anime Fan ?

You now have the opportunity to be a techsperts member :)

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2124636>

Check the recruitment here ^^

Good luck guys

Alside - January 18, 2012, 11:15 pm

I will probably apply I am a manga fan :)

You should apply for anime section inside the group , we will be recruiting overall 8-9 members :)

Marshmellow - January 18, 2012, 11:28 pm

Cool. Applied.

Would be nice to be in a proper official group ;P

Okazaki - January 19, 2012, 12:54 am

No thanks, also this is far from the first group for anime fans ...

Ice Queen - January 19, 2012, 1:28 am

AnimeFAN for me, It doesn't need to be official. It does more then most official clubs actually do.

I agree with Okazaki, this is not the first anime group. maybe the first official, but not the very first.

Layfon - January 19, 2012, 4:43 am

o.0 You guys are still going on about 'AnimeFAN' thing? Lol but yeah okazaki is right, the old first one was way better, and we don't want to split it into 2 discussions boards :S

This is definately not the first anime group guys, this is the first official anime group :)

I am a member of AnimeFan from 1 year and 6 months guys :)

Techsperts anime Fan division will do a lot of new things :)

What do you mean going on about it? It has always been around so what are you insinuating mate.

Ontopic: Yer i dont want activity split between two boards. I will continue to stay with AA and the AnimeFAN group. I dont think of Techsperts as an official anime group personally, more of a group that is trying to move in on a niche.

For that section we are recruiting and i will love to see you in the group buddy :)

Layfon - January 19, 2012, 8:58 am

oh lol I heard AnimeFAN was closed down or something? And no this is the second official anime group. Nyx had one before, but a public forum is better either way.

ven0m - January 19, 2012, 9:01 am

this will be awesome.

AF was going to be closed down due to admin activity but i convinced Happeh to hand the group over to me. Ill be working hard to promote it in the near future but i dont want it to become popular only for short term again, i want a long burn so im not rushing. Also Nyx never actually got his own official group, he got moderator of the AA section instead. ^^

Layfon - January 19, 2012, 9:41 am

No I remember him telling me he did, and he chose a public section over it (which is a good choice imo)

But yeah only reason i'm not here, is I don't want activity split up into 2 different boards :S

Tasemu - January 19, 2012, 10:24 am

Yeah he was offered it but he never actually got it because of his decision. ^^

Techsperts seems like a cool group but i definitely dont recognize it as the first official anime group, Techsperts is Techsperts and that is all.

Marshmellow - January 19, 2012, 10:26 am

It would still be fun if AnimeFAN! actually involved anything other than bragging rights though...

I know things are under planning and stuff like that, but I don't really see anything of it.

Aye its true that steps need to be taken. Study, AA Weekly, My radio and mostly social stuff and the fact that i party a lot cause delays to what i can practically do with AnimeFAN in the short term. It WILL be done though. Now enough about AF, this thread is getting offtopic. ^^

Layfon - January 19, 2012, 11:40 am

true but Techsperts is just techsperts. Diving it into divisions is just a facade to recruit more members probably. I mean they hardly have anything in common and now with the sudden interest in Anime :S

I just don't want 2 seperate boards for this. Trust me it is for the better.

Happeh - January 19, 2012, 12:12 pm

Even though I'm apart of Techsperts, this isn't an official anime group and shouldn't be promoted as such.

Techsperts is Techsperts, that's all

We always have groups inside the group for the info.

We are not saying techsperts is an official anime group, we are saying that anime fans are given chance to become a member of an official group.

That's why the naem of the thread is

Official Techsperts : Anime Division || First Time a group for Anime Fans

The First Time a group for Anime Fans should not be misunderstood as the first group, it is only a chance for anime guys to work in a group.

(Jan 19, 2012 01:12 PM)Happeh Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Even though I'm apart of Techsperts, this isn't an official anime group and shouldn't be promoted as such. Yes it is not at all, some member misinterpreted it.

Everything else is good :)

Tasemu - January 21, 2012, 9:05 am

Well to be honest the line: First time a group for anime fans. I personally cant read it any other way than you are trying to say its the first group for anime fans... How else is it supposed to be read?

Okazaki - January 21, 2012, 9:10 am

Personally i wouldn't want activity split from AA into techsperts and AA, And I'm sure anyone who is active in AA and has been for any length of time will agree that this can do no good, we already have groups, we don't need more, the current groups keep AA as "Homebase" and don't divert any activity from AA, For them reasons i wont even consider applying and would urge others not to.

Itachi Uchiha - January 21, 2012, 9:17 am

Well, if it's for anime members. I guess I'd go for it.

Marshmellow - January 21, 2012, 9:27 am

I already read just about every new post I see anyway.

Otherwise, i'm just refreshing occasionally looking for new ones. It's not like I don't have enough time or initiative for two groups.

That's just me though, I understand that the activity of certain members would drop. Remember though, not everyone will be accepted, and that is of those who apply.

Well to be honest out of all of the "well known" members i have talked to or seen post itachi is the only one that i have seen express interest, other than that I've only seen "lesser known" member so i doubt much will be lost.

I totally agree on his statemment. Deep-minded yet simple for today's economy and policy crisis.

I wonder if I'm a "well-known" member. ./

Marshmellow - January 21, 2012, 1:54 pm

Well, Tails, Sasuke., Loli Pansu, OneandonlySunny, Kanade, Happeh, Excalibur, Desugrace, and a few others have signed up for it. I'm not sure if that goes as "expressing interest", but they're people I'm pretty sure are "well-known" around 'ere... I've seen them all plenty at least.

Correction, Happeh was already a member.

Marshmellow - January 21, 2012, 2:34 pm

He signed up in that very thread as well, presumably for the anime subgroup.

Tasemu - January 21, 2012, 2:38 pm

People can do what they want, this does not need to turn into a pissing contest for groups. If someone want to join (or not) then its their choice and there is no need to have a shit fling over the situation. ^^

Happeh - January 21, 2012, 2:47 pm

Yo guys chatting about me. ^^

I was already in Techsperts, and I was trying to get placed in their anime group; as it is one of my better specialties. I just thought I had to sign up within the thread. Tis all.

Like Tas said, do whatever. Why give a shit about what others are doing?

Marshmellow - January 21, 2012, 3:14 pm

Because we're discussing the split of activity between the two.

Starting with me responding to this:

(Jan 21, 2012 01:34 PM)[AnimeFaN!] Okazaki Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Well to be honest out of all of the "well known" members i have talked to or seen post itachi is the only one that i have seen express interest, other than that I've only seen "lesser known" member so i doubt much will be lost.

It's not an "omg hes a trait0r!!!1!" thing, it's a debate about the extent of the activity lost.

Tasemu - January 21, 2012, 3:18 pm

I agree with Okazaki, i don't think Techsperts trying to recruit AA members with this particular strategy is a good idea. However i'm not going to try and press my opinion on members. Just let it go.

Ice Queen - January 21, 2012, 4:36 pm

I agree with Okazaki too on this one. And a discussion about this is unneeded.

Recruitment is closed, it was a chance for users to become a member of Techsperts anime division, glad to hear your comments on this.

Thank You
